FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Court of Impeachment—Continuation of Evidence on the Part of the Managers—Opening of the Defense by Mr. Curtis.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 9, 1868.

SENATE.

The Court of Impeachment opened at twelve o'clock with the usual proclamation. All the Managers were present except Mr. Stevens. The counsel for the President were also present. At 12:15 the members of the House of Representatives entered in larger numbers than on recent occasions.

The Chief Justice inquired whether the Managers had any further evidence to introduce, and Mr. Butler responded in the affirmative. The reading of the journal was dispensed with.

Mr. BUTLER, on part of the Managers, called Mr. Wood, who was sworn. Mr. Butler stated that his design was to prove by this witness the President's hostility to Congress. Witness was from Alabama. He testified that he served in the Union army, and in December, 1866, he called on the President seeking government employment. The President told him he could do nothing for him, as his influence was on the side of Congress, while those he appointed must be with him.

Foster Blodgett testified that he was appointed postmaster at Augusta, Ga., in 1865; was suspended in 1866 by the President, and does not know that the Senate had been notified of this action.

A letter from Gen. Thomas accepting the appointment as Secretary of War ad interim, was then put in evidence, and Mr. Butler gave notice that the Managers would file certificates from proper officers to show that no reasons for the suspension of Mr. Blodgett had ever been sent to the Senate.

Mr. BUTLER then announced that the case on behalf of the House was closed.

Mr. CURTIS then rose and commenced the opening argument for the defence.

Alluding to the character of the trial and the oath taken by Senators in the capacity of Judges, Mr. CURTIS said the only appeal he should make would be to the conscience and reason of every Judge. Basing his argument solely on questions of law and fact, he intimated he would subsequently combat the position taken by the Managers, that this body was not essentially and in fact a Court; but at present he would consider the articles, separately, in their order and substance.

The gravamen of the charges of the first article was that of the removal of Mr. Stanton, and that it was intended to be in violation of the Tenure-of-office act and Constitution. He argued to show that the case of Mr. Stanton did not come within the scope and provisions of the Tenure-of-office act, maintaining that the description of his office and its tenure differed materially in its section and proviso. Mr. Stanton was appointed by President Lincoln in 1862, to hold the office during the term for which he was elected, not to hold during a subsequent term for which he might be elected. It could not be said that Mr. Johnson was serving out the term of Mr. Lincoln. The term for which a President is elected is not absolutely four years, but is limited by life and ability. His conditional term expiring, the Vice President succeeds to a new term, which consists of the remainder of the term for which the Vice President was elected. As well might it be said that one sovereign served out the term of another whom he succeeded. There was a purpose in the difference of the phraseology between the section and its proviso. The Constitution authorized the President to call upon the members of his Cabinet for advice respecting matters concerning his own duties, as well as respecting matters connected with their various Departments, and such had been the invarible practice since the foundation of the Government. They were the voice and hands of the President. In them he was to repose confidence, and for them he was to be responsible. For this reason they were placed by tenure-of-office in the same position as the President by whom they were appointed. They were to serve out his term of service. But as to others holding over, the case was different.

Mr. CURTIS proceeded to show that the feeling and intention of both Houses of Congress was in the framing and passage of this bill, maintaining that they were in accordance with the views he had just expressed. He quoted from a speech, explaining the report of the Committee of Conference made by Mr. Schenck; also speeches of Messrs. Sherman, Williams and others in the Senate, in which they deemed Stanton in office. He read, not as expressions of individual opinion, but as explanations of the report of the Committee of Conference.

Returning to the consideration of the articles, he said the sixth section forbids any removal contrary to the provisions of the act; but as Mr. Stanton did not yield, there was no removal, and if there had been, it would not have violated the act, since he had just shown that Mr. Stanton did not come within its provisions. The House of Representatives charges the President with intentional violation of this section, which unquestionably admits of different constructions; but fail to prove he concurred in their interpretation, and then wilfully acted in contravention of it. The first duty of the President is to construe an act and decide what is its true meaning. This duty he performed, as the Constitution provided, by consultation with his constitutional advisers, and they all put the same construction upon the act in question as had been assigned to it by the framers. The case of Mr. Stanton is of actually holding office, under the act of 1789, which, without expressly giving the President power to remove him, implies it by directing what shall be done by the President after a removal. Nothing in the Constitution forbids the exercise of this power by the President, independently of the Senate. The decision of Congress, in 1789, was, by implication, that such power was granted to the President by the Constitution, and neither subsequent legislation nor amendments to the Constitution denied it. The practice of the government was also in conformity to this view. On the outbreak of the civil war the War Department was in disloyal hands. President Buchanan told Floyd he must give it up, and Floyd had too much good sense, and something else, to refuse. Without this immediate action there is no telling what disastrous consequences might have ensued.

Having argued the right of removal, Mr. CURTIS proceeded to argue its propriety and necessity in this case. He recited the circumstances attending, first, the correspondence with Mr. Stanton and his suspension, and went on to claim there might be instances in which the highest patriotism and duty required a citizen to raise the question of the validity and binding force of a law, as such would be the duty of a trustee in the protection of the rights of third parties, who were unable to assert them, and assist them. Such was the duty nobly fulfilled by Hampden, when he opposed the payment of ship money. The President took no extreme ground, but while believing it his duty to see that the laws were faithfully executed, still, in cases where a portion of his pre rogatives are sought to be invaded, and no one else can raise the question, he must do it. Suppose a law was passed depriving him of his power as Commander in-Chief, would it not be his duty to oppose it, so as to bring about a decision by the Courts? A power derived by implication is as assailable as one directly granted by the Constitution. Counsel do not conceive it to be essential to their case to maintain this position, but deem it plainly proved.

Mr. CURTIS then enumerated some of considerations which had influenced the President, and referred to Story's Commentaries on the Constitution, and other authorities, to show the rule of construction. Practice is the best exponent of law. From 1789 to 1857, every President and every Congress has participated in and acted under the construction of former years, namely that the President has the sole power of removal.

The Senate took a recess for twenty minutes.

On reassembling, at 2:50, Senator MORRILL moved to adjourn. Negatived—twenty-five to two.

Mr. CURTIS then resumed his argument, and cited numerous authorities and decisions to prove that the effect of contemporaneous legislative construction is to fix and determine the interpretation of laws. He referred to the different opinions advanced during the debate on this subject in 1789, and claimed the construction of that power of removal was subject to legislative enactment. It had at least never been established so clearly, that to act on the opposite view was presumptively a crime. He then advanced the argument that to apply the Tenure-of-Office law to Mr. Stanton would be to violate the agreement made by the Senate in confirming his appointment to hold office during the pleasure of the President.

Recapitulating his arguments to prove that the President could not be impeached for an act designed merely to procure a judicial decision on a disputed point, he quoted from Mr. Butler's speech to show that the Managers admitted this view, and had said the removal in itself was perhaps not an impeachable offense, if made with the foregoing motive, and not accompanied with a defiant message to the Senate. Mr. C. said it was a matter of taste as to how they should be notified. The Managers claimed the reason for removing Mr. Stanton assigned by the President, was an afterthought, and he was estopped from now alleging it by certain things he had done and said previously. He argued the rule of estoppel was of very limited application, and could not be used to convict a person of crime, nor brought forward in this case. To have informed the Senate of his reason would have been construed into a threat, and now the Managers claim he was too deferential. There was no inconsistency in the President's action in regard to this law. Every day in the Courts such positions were maintained. In a similar case an individulal may set up a plea in regard to a law, first that it is unconstitutional, second that it does not apply to himself, and third that if it is a law he can maintain his case under it. So long as the Tenure-of-Office law affected unimportant matters, the President avoided conflict with it; but when a proper occasion arose, he asserted his own views, without being prejudiced by former action in regard to lesser and unimportant matters. The change made in the form of commission does not state or tend to determine where the power of removal is lodged, but merely acknowledged it as existing somewhere by virtue of law.

At this point Mr. CURTIS begged permission to suspend his remarks until to-morrow, as he was greatly fatigued.

The Court accordingly adjourned at 3:45, and the Senate went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. CHANLER offered a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, that the President send a Mission to Brazil, Bolivia and Uruguay, to reconcile those nations, now at war.

Mr. KERR asked leave of absence until the 4th of May, and that he have until the 7th of May to prepare and file a minority report in the contested election case of Delano against Morgan.

Mr. SCOFIELD, acting as chairman of the Committee on Elections, was willing to let that case go over until the first of May, but

Mr. KERR said he could not possibly get back by that time.

Mr. SCOFIELD then gave notice he would call up the case whenever the House was in condition to hear and dispose of it.

Leave of absence was given to Mr. Kerr and several other members.

Mr. SHANKS introduced a bill to amend the twenty-first section of the bill to enrol the national forces, so as to modifiy the provision disfranchising deserters. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The House resolved itself into Committee of the Whole and proceeded to the Senate Chamber, no business to be done on return.

ARKANSAS.

Gen. Gillem Reported to Have Ignored the Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, April 9.—The Appeal's Little Rock dispatch, this evening, says: A messenger just arrived from Vicksburg says General Gellem ignores in toto the assemblage at the capital calling themselves the Legislature of Arkansas. He, however, says he has no authority to dissolve that body, and will not, unless they attempt to seize the Treasury, move occupants from office, or otherwise disturb the public peace.

No announcement has, as yet, been made at headquarters of the result of the voting on the Constitution.

British Murderer Surrendered.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, April 9.—Charles Ross, who has been in prison here for some time on a charge of murdering the wife of his landlord, in Ireland, several years ago, was taken in charge by two officers, who arrived to-day for that purpose. The British Government offered seven hundred pounds reward for his apprehension, and after his arrest he attempted suicide by cutting his throat, but is now so far recovered that he can be removed.

Weather at St. Louis—Fruit Damaged.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, April 9.—A very heavy rain fell here last night, continuing almost without intermission until late this evening. It also froze hard during the night and trees, fences, &c., are heavily coated with ice this morning. The fruit has been badly injured in some localities and it is feared it is now utterly destroyed. The weather to-night shows signs of clearing up.

Rivers and Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, April 9.—River 7 feet 6 inches in the canal. About 3 inches of snow fell early this morning, and a heavy and incessant rain subsequently, which promises to continue for some time.

ST. LOUIS, April 9.—Heavy rain last night and to-day.

FOUR O'CLOCK A. M.

THE CAPITAL.

U. S. Judge of Nebraska--Error Corrected--Snow Storm---Another Pacific Railroad Project --Naturalization Treaty Signed --New Coin Specimens.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 9, 1868.

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED.

The Senate to-day confirmed Edward S. Dundy to be U. S. Judge of the District of Nebraska.

ERROR CORRECTED.

In Representative Eliot's recent printed report on the Bureau of Freedmen, it is stated the supplies to loyal whites and freedmen for immediate use to remove pressing want, before Congress had made an appropriation, were in rations an average per day of $28,819. This is an error. It should be that that was the number of rations instead of dollars.

RAILROAD AND TELEGRAPH MEMORIAL.

A memorial is to be presented to Congress by the Memphis, El Paso and Pacific Railroad of Texas, praying for a grant of public lands and a loan of United States bonds to aid in the construction of a continuous line of railroad and telegraph from Jefferson, Texas, to San Diego, California.

NEW COIN SPECIMENS.

Specimens of the new one, three and five cent coins were received by the Comptroller of Currency from the United States Mint to-day.

GERMAN TREATY SIGNED.

The President to-day signed the new treaty with the North German Confederation.

NO MORE RECEPTIONS.

No more evening receptions will be held at the Executive Mansion this season.

THE CANADA ASSASSINATION.

Result of the Coroner's Investigation—Parties Charged with the Murder—Examination of the Alleged Assassin.

OTTAWA, April 9.—The Coroner's Jury returned a verdict late last night, "that Hon. Darcy McGee, came to his death by a gun shot wound, inflicted by some person or persons unknown."

Information has been lodged against Wheelan, charging him with the murder. Wm. Mitchell, Jno. Doyle and Ralph Slattery, of Philadelphia, will be tried as accomplices.

James Whalen was brought up for examination on a charge of murder before police magistrate Ogarth this morning. The prisoner appeared much fatigued and depressed, but when in the dock he assumed an air of apparent indifference. There were a number of spectators present. Mr. Orrly appeared for the Crown. The prisoner was unconfined.

Sergeant John Wade swore he knew the prisoner in Quebec in 1865-'66; he was arrested there on a charge of being a Fenian and tampering with soldiers; while in Quebec he passed under the name of Wm. Sullivan.

William Graham, doorkeeper of the House of Commons, testified to having admitted the prisoner four different times to the gallery of the house. On the night of the murder he gave prisoner an admission ticket. Each time the prisoner was unaccompanied by any one, and appeared uneasy and excited. Witness left the House before him.

Detective O'Neill testified to having arrested the prisoner; found in his possession a revolver of Smith & Wesson pattern; there were six charges in the chambers when taken; five appeared to have been in for some time; one barrel was recently greased; the inside and muzzle showed indications of burnt powder, as if the revolver had been recently discharged. He compared the bullet produced in Conrt with those found in the prisoner's tin box, and also with those in the revolver. It exactly corresponds with those in the cylinder of the revolver.

Among the articles found on the prisoner was a little black covered book which the Queen's counsel considered of importance, and declined opening in court, but would reserve an examination to some other occasion. The prisoner exhibited considerable nervousness during O'Neal's examination.

Mrs. Trotter sworn: She remembered the prisoner, he having twice visited her house. On the last occasion his conduct was unbecoming and suspicious, and she ordered him out of the house.

Several other witnesses were examined whose testimony was unimportant.

Mr. O'Reilly asked, on behalf of the prosecution, that the prisoner be remanded for eight days, as he believed from his knowledge of the case that delay was important for the ends of justice.

The prisoner said he had no objection to the offer, and the Court granted the delay asked for. The prisoner was then remanded until the 16th.

Some persons believe the large quantity of nitro-glycerine obtained in New York on forged orders was destined for use in this city, as part of the plot which resulted in the death of McGee.

MONTREAL, April 9.—At a meeting of the City Council this afternoon, it was unanimously resolved that the funeral expenses of McGee be borne by the city, and an appropriation of $10,000 was voted. It was also resolved that the Mayor be authorized to offer a reward of $5,000 for the arrest of the murderer.

The wife of Whalen was arrested last night.

The foreman of a large manufacturing establishment here disappeared Saturday night. He was of known Fenian proclivities and is suspected of being implicated in the assassination.

At a meeting of St. Patrick's Society Mr. Devlin denounced the assassination in strong terms, and resolutions were adopted expressing sorrow and indignation at the crime, and heartfelt sympathy with the widow. Other national societies passed similar resolutions. The funeral will take place on Monday morning, and will be the most imposing demonstration ever witnessed here.

Bribery in New York Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, April 9.—In the Senate to-night the resolution for the appointment of a committee to investigate the charges of bribery in connection with the Erie Railway bill came up, and an amendment proposing to go back to the legislation of 1866 and 1867, relative to the Central Railroad fare bill, was rejected—12 to 17. No further action was taken.

ALBANY, April 9.—The Committee to whom was referred the charges made by Mr. Glenn against Alexander Frear, of the Assembly, spent the day in examining the subject. They have sworn Mr. Glenn and the witnesses and find no justification for the charge. They will so report to-morrow morning.

TERRIBLE LAKE DISASTER.

Steamer Sea Bird Burned on Lake Michigan—Over One Hundred Persons Lost—Full Particulars of the Calamity.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 9.—The side wheel steamer Sea Bird, belonging to the Goodrich Line, which left Milwaukee last night, was burned off Waukegan, Illinois, this morning. The vessel and cargo are a total loss. No communication has yet been had with the wreck from shore. It is supposed all on board have been lost. The vessel was valued at $70,000. No insurance.

WAUKEGAN, ILL., April 9.—Previous to the discovery of the burning steamer off this place this morning, a heavy explosion was heard on the lake from the direction in which she was first seen, and it is supposed that the fire originated from the boiler exploding. When seen she was enveloped in flames, and appeared to be unmanageable, and drifting at the mercy of the waves, which were running high, the wind blowing a gale from the northeast. The upper works have been entirely burned, the smoke stack gone, and larboard wheel house apparently gone also. The hull is now drifting toward shore in the direction of Lake Forest. A sail vessel remained in the vicinity of the burning steamer for two hours during the morning, and then started towards Chicago. It is reported from Milwaukee that there were between thirty and forty passengers on her list.

FULL PARTICULARS OF THE CALAMITY.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The Sea Bird belonged to the Two rivers, Manitowae and Chicago line of steamers, had made four trips this season, and was on the fifth when she met with the terrible disaster reported this morning.

When off Waukegan, about half-past six o'clock this morning, a fire was seen issuing from a pile of miscellaneous freight stored around the after guards, outside the ladies' cabin. In ten minutes' time the entire stern of the boat was wrapped in flames. From the statement of one of the rescued it appears that all on board became demoralized, even the officers, no effort being made to lower the small boats.

The only survivors, as far as known, are C. A. Chamberlain and Edwin Hannelsberry, passengers from Sheboygan. The latter makes the following statement:

There were in all about one hundred persons on board, including eight or ten ladies and seven or eight children. About five o'clock this morning I saw smoke arising on the main deck, just below the ladies' cabin. There was a lot of tubs and some straw lying near, and the fire got among them right away. I cried "fire" and the crew and passengers rushed from their rooms. There was great confusion and the fire spread so rapidly as to convince me that it had been burning a long time, Within five minutes the after part of the boat was in flames. Do not think the ladies had time to get out of the state rooms, and some of them and the children must have been burned. An effort was made by a portion of them to reach the small boats, but it failed.

Mr. Chamberlain states that about half-past six he was looking over the side of the steamer and saw a porter come out of the ladies' cabin with a scuttle of coals and and ashes, and going to the bulwarks near where a quantity of miscellaneous freight was stored, to throw the contents overboard. In about a quarter of an hour he heard an alarm of fire and saw the flames issuing from this pile of freight. It seemed not more than ten minutes before the whole after part of the steamer was in flames. In his opinion when the porter threw the coals overboard, the wind drove some of them back into the freight. He heard no explosion, and thinks that if the fire had caught from the boiler explosion it would have been discovered sooner.

Captain Yates, of the schooner Cordelia, states that when off Waukegan he saw the burning steamer. Was distant from her four or five miles. Bore down on her and succeeded in rescuing two passengers, one of whom was in the water and the other on the steamer. Think it not possible that any others were saved. Learn from one of the survivors that after the steamer took fire the helm was lashed hard aport, causing her to whirl round and round as long as the engines worked. The Cordelia did not leave the wreck until it was burned to the water's edge.

The following are the names of those on board, as far as ascertained: G. B. Davidson, Robert Scott, George Nieman, Thomas Carpenter, Peter Sullivan, G. A. Goss, L. Lincoln, Edwin Neighbor, H. Comstock, of Rome, New York, George W. Emory and S. C. Watkins, clerks, of Manitowac. Officers: Captain, John Morris; First Mate, Richard Hacklin; First Engineer, Thomas Hanahan; Clerk, James Hodges; Stewart, John Morrison; Crew: M. Morrissey, M. Malone, John Glemmon, Jason and James O'Rurke, J. Burns, Cook, and Billy, assistant, J. Simpson and J. Brennan, cabin boys.

The following embarked at Sheboygan: H. A. Gaylord and wife, William G. Mallory, Mrs. E. E. Sharpe, John O'Brien, Theodore Stein, D. C. Daggett, Edwin Hunneburg, L. Packard, Dr. L. Bock, Edward Provinskall, Henry Ullrich, of Glenbutah, A. C. Chamberlain and Mrs. Sprague, both of Sheboygan Falls; O. Percy, of Detroit; M. Gallagher, of Xenia, Ohio, M. Pieper and wife, and J. M. Leonard, of Chicago, F Lester, wife and children, and two travelling agents, names unknown.

—The body of an infant, with several wounds upon it, was found in Hammer creek, Lancaster county, on Sunday. It had evidently been born alive, but the mother and murderess have not been found.

—Snow commenced falling at four o'clock yesterday morning at Cincinnati, and continued until five P. M., with three inches on the ground, when it turned to a warm, steady rain, which at ten P. M. continued unabated.

—The Philadelphia Board of Trade held a meeting last night for the purpose of extending an invitation to the Boston Board of Trade to meet there in May, on the occasion of the organization of the National Board of Trade.

—A colored servant woman in Nashville, was burned to death by the explosion of a lamp containing what had been bought for coal oil. On examination of the fluid it has been found to contain large quantities of benzine and camphine.

—Three of the machine shops of the Peoria, Pekin and Jacksonville Railroad at Pekin, Ill., were destroyed by fire Wednesday night. Three engines and much valuable machinery was consumed. Loss, $50,000; insured in New York companies.

—The New York East Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in session at the Summerfield M. E. Church, in Brooklyn, on Wednesday passed resolutions urging the Legislature to pass the pending bill with regard to immoral publications.

—Rev. Henry Green has been unanimously elected President of Dickenson College of New Jersey, to fill the vacancy caused by the late resignation of Rev. Dr. McLeon. Dr. Green, who is a nephew of Hon. N. W. Green, late Chancellor of New Jersey, is a Professor in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Irwelton.

—The strike of the West Albany, N. Y., workmen has ended, Mr. Torrence, Vice President of the New York Central Railroad, having announced that the following advance of wages had been granted: Carpenters, twenty-five to thirty-eight cents; trackmen, twelve and a half cents; painters, twenty-five cents; wood machine hands, fifteen to eighteen cents; machinists, twenty-five cents.

—A Canadian officer arrived in New York, Wednesday, from Fort Columbus, having in his charge a prisoner named Jno. Hoag, who is charged with having committed an atrocious murder and robbery in the city of Toronto, Canada, in February last. The officer had a warrant for Hoag's arrest, issued by a Toronto magistrate, and he had been on the prisoner's track for some time. When found, Hoag was about to enlist in the regular army.

CROSS PURPOSES.

I love my charming Polly, and
My charming Polly, she
Is fond of Dick, who'd give his hand
For Fan, who dotes on—me.

Each day I try my Poll to meet,
My Polly pines to see
Young Dick who lounges every street
For Fan, who hunts up—me.

I frown when Fanny's path I cross,
Fan young Dick to see,
Dick swears, the rogue! at Poll, who'll toss
Her head at sight of—me.

Oh would some kindly fate transfer,
Fan's love to Dick, and he
Not love my Poll, and she not care
For Dick, but sigh for—me.

But no! it is the lot of man:
'Twas ever so, you see,
That Poll loves Dick—while Dick loves Fan,
And Fan is sweet—on somebody else.

VARIOUS TOPICS.

—The ice still holds at Montreal.

—A $100,000 cotton mill is to be erected at Peoria, Ill.

—1,500 barrels of eggs are daily consumed in New York city.

—Baden has a Jew for Finance Minister in its new Cabinet.

—Judy wants to know what is the female name answering to mandamus.

—The New York plasterers have sent $500 to the strikers in Boston.

—For maple sugar this has been the best year ever known in New Hampshire.

—One hundred dollars per acre are made this year, in North Carolina, by the pea nut crop.

—St. Pudentius is the title of Cardinal Bonaparte. Pope Pudentius would sound quite novel.

—Mrs. Alphabetical Southworth is what the Chicago Post calls the renowned novelist and woman of letters.

—General Forrest is supposed to be the head centre of the Ku Klux Klan. A fitting representative of the society.

—Father McMahon, one of the Fenians imprisoned in the neighboring Dominion, is lying at the point of death.

—It is unlawful to spin tops in the streets of Nashville, Japanese citizens will find this ordinance oppressive and unjust.

—A young married man lost recently, at a single sitting, $100,000, at a Paris club. Gambling is very fashionable in that capital.

—The Present Baron O'Neil, the descendant of the famous King of Ulster, "The O'Neil," is a clergyman, the Rev. William O'Neil.

—Mr. A. T. Stewart used all his influence to defeat the Arcade railway bill for New York; but a combination of capitalists for once defeated him.

—Some one says that if Drew has the last chance, he will have a monument of himself costing £300,000, because Vanderbilt's is only to cost $250,000.

—Mrs. Howard Paul, who with her husband gave some delightful entertainments here a year ago, has charmed England this season as the Grand Duchess.

—Mr. John Masker, of Trenton, N. J., was bitten two months ago by his wife's pet dog, and a few days ago he died. Moral—"Beware of your wife's pet dogs."

—The Turkish government has decided to send $500,000 on a two turret monitor which shall be built in England. A Christian monitor for the infidel ports.

—On Wednesday of last week a boy and a team of horses, while engaged in harrowing, were struck by lightning, and all found dead together, at Pottsville, Iowa.

—The creditors of Overend, Gurney & Co., will it is now said, receive their claims in full with interest, the assets of the firm having proved larger than the liabilities.

—The 78th Highlanders at Montreal having found the weather milder than it was, have taken off their trowsers, and go round in kilts and bare knees once more.

—Dr. Chapin's salary is $12,000, and his congregation recently made him a donation visit, during which they presented him with the house in which he lives, valued at $38,000.

—Vociferous is the latest corruption of Vesuvius that the funny men who spell things wrong and pretend they know better, when they don't, have been inspired to get off.

—Mr. Bonner has siezed upon Miles O'Rielly for the Ledger. Why Mr. B. should depart thus from his usual good taste in the selection of contributions, we are unable to state.

—The Minnesota Historical Society has come into possession of a treasure, the real and only scalp of Little Crow, the leader of the Indian massacre of 1862. It is tanned and will keep.

—Edwin Forrest pays $40 a day each to Barton Hill and Miss Lillie. $40 a day is $12,480 a year leaving out Sundays, or very nearly $25,000 for the two. Mr. Forrest's income must be very large.

—It is a mooted question whether cardinals or ambassadors have the right of precedence at the Tuilleries, and it is one that gives an immensity of trouble to the master and mistress of ceremonies.

—Doylestown, Pa., has not a single fire engine of any description. The people have been talking about getting one for years, but will probably wait until some great fire destroys half the town.

—It turns out that the poet Swinburne knows nothing about Menken, and that the joint photograph of the two is a mean concoction gotten up by some of the enemies of England's greatest modern poet.

—The Illustrated Police News has been so thoroughly opposed by Superintendent Kennedy, of the New York Police, that wholesale dealers sent the whole edition back to the publishers at Boston last week.

—The town council of Liverpool decided to erect a Fine Art Gallery at a cost of $90,000, but their pecuniary liabilities are so great that they have changed their plans, and no Fine Art Gallery will be built.

—A man in New Orleans committed suicide with a bomb shell. He shut himself up in a room with the projectile, and calmly waited until he was blown into a thousand pieces and eternity at the same moment.

—The Boston Post is responsible for the statement that there is a widow in Kumulapore who is only 18 months old. Marrying young has often been recommended, but there is such a thing as over doing everything;

—The Wheeling Intelligencer says that those universally protected birds, the martins, returned to that town at precisely five minutes past five p. m., Monday last. There is nothing like being exact in imparting news to the public.

—Madame Celeste will take her farewell of the stage shortly in London, under the patronage of the Duke of Edinburgh. Upwards of thirty years have passed since she first trode the boards in Pittsburgh. She was then a danseuse.

—Vetoes are popular. The veto fever has gotten up to Maine. The Mayor of Bath, not being able to veto anything else, exercised his powers in that line on an ordinance increasing his own salary. Putnam is the name of this heroic man.

—Two thousand five hundred dollars worth of valuable silks and laces were stolen from the dry goods shops of E. Will, on Arch street, Philadelphia, on Tuesday night. False keys were used, and no clue to the robbers has been discovered.

—A commission among the learned, is being held in Paris by the French Navy authorities, to find some means of utilizing petroleum on board of the French Navy. Had not the Pittsburgh Petroleum Association better send on a committee at once.

—A new single span suspension bridge over the Schuylkill from Bridge to Spring Garden streets, in Philadelphia, is proposed. The old Fairmount wire bridge would then be given up to the Park. Eight hundred thousand dollars is the price of the proposed improvement.

—Two hundred French tradesmen have left the capital of Egypt and gone back to France because they charged too high and the Viceroy took his custom from them. The present descendent of, or successor to the Pharaohs is not the man to be charged too much with impunity.

—"No Popery" riots are convulsing Rochdale, the home of John Bright. Intense excitement, several murders and the demolition of a Roman Catholic chapel as well as the dwellings of some citizens professing that faith, have made the town rather an unpleasant place to live in.

—The old house on Broadway, between Seventy-fifth and Seventy-sixth streets, New York, said to be the oldest in the city, and known as that in which Louis Philippe taught school in this country while a refugee, is to be torn down to make room for the widening of the Bloomingdale road into the new boulevard.

—Dietrich unexpectedly left the English opera troupe at Cleveland, and Caroline Richings assumed the baton and directed the orchestra herself. She is the most energetic and pushing of women. We actually believe that if Campbell, Castle and Mrs. Seguin were to leave suddenly, she would sing baritone, tenor, soprano, everything in fact and chorus to boot, and do it well too.

—A man named Henry Clemens was robbed of his watch and money and so badly injured that he died the next day. This outrage occurred in Philadelphia at Eighth and Walnut early Monday evening. Our few police seem to do better than the many in the Quaker City. At least we have no knowledge of any highway robbery and murder taking place in one of the principal streets of this city.

—Below we give a paragraph, absurd in its utter falsity, which is going the rounds of newspaperdom. Dr. Dix is a very popular, able and pious clergyman, opposed to the heresies of some of his brethren, but in no more danger of being removed than is Mt. Vesuvius or Great Britain:

"Rev. Morgan Dix, D. D., rector of Trinity Church, New York, and a son of Gen. J. A. Dix, Minister to France, has been suspended for false doctrines and Romanistic tendencies."

—Cleveland is going to have a natatorium, or swimming pond. Why can't we? Swimming is healthier and much more useful than skating. It is pleasant. Our rivers are either too muddy or too oily for bathing in, and females cannot well go to them anyhow. New York, Philadelphia and Boston have natatoria; why cannot the Smoky City have one, too? As an investment they are exceedingly profitable every place else, and would no doubt be so here. Let some one try the experiment or start a stock company.

—The Young Men's Christian Association of Troy, N. Y., permit games to be played in their rooms, chess, draughts, backgammon and cards. Of course no betting is allowed, and yet the rooms are crowded, and several of the keepers of low places of amusement are trying to get up an excitement against the Association because their business has been ruined. This sounds well, but we know of some places where the people would, we believe, rather have the young men do anything, no matter how heinous, rather than have them play a game of cards, so great is the prejudice existing against these pieces of printed pasteboard.

SINCE THE contemptible charge that Gen. Grant is an intemperate man has been so overwhelmingly refuted, I see that the Democrats say, "Well, at least, Grant is not a church-going man." This objection, in view of the singularly devout Democratic party, must be so serious that I hasten to relieve their burdened souls. Gen. Grant and his family are, I believe, Methodists. The General quietly gave $10,000 to the Metropolitan Methodist Church to be erected in this city. He has generally worshipped at Wesley Chapel, but has recently taken a pew at Dr. Sunderland's church, and your correspondent sees him with his family almost every Sabbath in that pew. Dr. Sunderland is one of the four preachers in Washington who were outspoken loyal men, and Grant likes him. The simple fact is, Grant is a modest, temperate, honest, brave, faithful, clear-headed man. He is worthy the love and honor of the American people, and will receive it in spite of malignant slanders of any man or party.—Correspondent Rochester Democrat.

AN Atlanta paper tells of a chap who came down from one of the upper counties and encountered a man with a hand organ covered with green cloth. The man began to turn and the countryman put down a quarter, which the other immediately took up. Down went another, which shared the same fate, and then another. The stranger, finding his pile getting low, turned to a bystander and asked: "Mister; what sort of a game is this, any how?"

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last even- ing with eight feet two inches in the Mo- nongahela, and eight feet four inches in the Allegheny. The Allegheny is reported stationary at Oil City with twenty-seven inches in the channel. Here, the weather was cloudy and cold yesterday with every appearance of snow.

The arrivals include the Robt. Moore, from Portsmouth; R. C. Grey, from Cin- cinnati; J. N. McCullough, from Parkers- burg, and St. Charles and Argosy, from Cincinnati. The Armadillo got off last night; she has engagements below.

The Bayard, in command of Asa Shep- ard, will take her place in the Parkers- burg trade, leaving at 12 o'clock. She has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, both inside and outside, and is in tip-top condition for business. Her cabin has been materially improved, having, among other things, been newly carpeted, and her state rooms have been supplied with new bed- ding. Indeed, she is in all respects, in better condition now than she has been at any time since she entered the trade. She takes the place of the Leni Leoti, leaving here every Tuesday and Friday.

The new mountain steamer Urilda cleared for Fort Benton last evening.

The Ida Rees, Capt. Albert, and the Im- porter, Capt. Williams, are both announced for the mountains, and will be the first boats out. The Silver Lake, Capt. Todd, is also up for Fort Benton. These boats are all connected with the "Rees Line."

The following named towboats of the coal fleet, it is expected, will get out for Cincinnati on the present rise: Leopard, Tiger, Fearless and James Gilmore. It is said that all the coal miners on the Monon- gahela Valley went to work yesterday.

The Glasgow, Capt. Geo. W. Johnston, will positively take her departure for the Mississippi on Saturday, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The Kate Robinson will get off for Cin- cinnati and Louisville to-day without fail; Capt. Robinson desires shippers to sent down their bills of lading as early as pos- sible.

The St. Charles, Capt. C. A. Dravo, with Andy Robinson, Jr., in the office, is the regular Friday packet for Cincinnati to- day. Here is an excellent opportunity for any one going to the Queen City.

The Emma No. 3, Capt. J. H. Marratta will positively take her departure for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi this even- ing. The Emma, is in all respects, one of the best boats of her class that comes to Pittsburgh, and is admirably adapted for the trip she is about to make.

The Wild Duck was to have left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Tuesday with a thousand tons of iron, flour, bran, clay, etc., etc.

The Glandale and Kate Putnam, en route from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, were at Cairo on Tuesday, as was also the Alice, from St. Louis to Pittsburgh. The towboat Stella, from New Orleans, to this port, was at Evansville on Tuesday.

Capt. Wm. W. Scott, a well-known Louisville and New Orleans pilot, died at Mauckport, Indiana, on the 2d instant, of typhoid fever, aged 47 years.

The Kellogg and barges arrived at New Orleans Friday, with a big cargo, including 6,805 barrels flour, 575 barrels pork, 1,153 sacks oats, 43,192 bushels bulk corn, and 3,000 tons ice, from St. Louis.

The New State and America were adver- tised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

A late Mobile paper says: The monitor Milwaukee, one of the most formidable vessels in Farragut's fleet, and which was sunk by a torpedo in the attack on Spanish Fort, now lies et the foot of Adams street. It is nearly a year since they commenced raising this vessel, and considerable diffi- culty was encountered and had to be over- come before she was finally towed to the wharf where she now lies. She is a double turreted monitor of the largest size, and well worth a visit. They are at present re- moving the iron plates from her turrets and deck, and when this is accomplished she will be towed around to St. Louis and broken up.

The Local Inspectors of Cinciunati have notified passenger steamboats that a gang- way must be kept on the guards, and all furniture stored must be so arranged as to leave a passage sufficient in cases of emer- gency for anp one to pass around the boat.

We clip the following from the St. Louis Democrat of Tuesday: Last evening the award of Government freight was not an- nounced, but no doubt the Big Horn gets its. The bids were for transportating 100 tons army supplies to Fort Rice, and 150 tons to Fort Stevenson. The ranged from $1,47 to $2,10 to Rice, and $1,75 to $3 to Ste- ven. The lowest bid was from Capt. Gil- ham, of the Big Horn, and was at the rate of $1,47 per 100 to Fort Rice, and $1,83¾ to Fort Stevenson.

The Starlight at New Orleans, on the 3d, narrowly escaped being snuffed out. Eire broke out among hay in her hold. The pa- pers say the prompt arrival of the firemen not only saved the Starlight from destruc- tion, but probably all the steamers lying below Canal street. The Starlight was not damaged.

The Vicksburg Times of Friday says the Enterprise, rather an unfortunate one, by the way, came out of Arkansas river with a full trip of cotton, no chimneys, and, it is said, two or three Sheriffs and United States Marshals aboard. Taking all things into consideration, the trip was a lively one. The Cairo Belle was sold by the Mar- shal at Vicksburg, on Friday, for $725, to George Smith. The boat is in very bad condition and will have to be very exten- sively repaired before she can be made use of for ordinary business.

The New State left Louisville for Pitts- burgh on Tuesday, with one thousand bags of wheat.

We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Wednesday: About 11 o'clock Monday night, as the Major Anderson was coming up stream, when just below Rising Sun she was into by the New State, which was going down stream, breaking the tim- bers of the Anderson for a space of eight or ten feet on the larboard, aft of the breast hooks, and making an ugly-looking hole in her hull. The New State whistled be- fore the boats met, and was answered by the Anderson, but the pilot on watch on the Anderson, Mr. Daniel David, says he saw no signal lights, and therefore though the New State was some boat bound up stream. Mr. David immediately headed her for the Kentucky shore, thinking she was sinking, but upon landing it was discovered that the hole made was above water, and a bulk- head was build, by which she was enabled to reach this city, where she was yesterday taken to the docks for repairs. The only damage sustained by the New State, so far as known, consisted of having her guards broken and her jackstaff carried away. The matter will be investigated by the pro- per authorities, and the blame will be placed where it belongs.

IMPEACHMENT.

The trial was resumed yesterday, and, after the examination of two witnesses for the prosecution, the case for the defense was opened by Judge CURTIS, in an argument of several hours' duration. Its main points were the denial that Mr. STANTON's case was covered by the Tenure of Office Law, and the assertion of the right of the Executive to construe the law for himself, and constitutionally to remove officers without consulting the Senate. He also maintains that act to be an infringement upon his constitutional powers, which it was his duty to resist. The line of defense thus revealed is in consonance with the general expectation. To what other points it may extend, we are not, at the present writing, informed.

A SHOCKING DISASTER is reported to have marked the opening of navigation on the lakes. The steamer Sea Bird was burned on Lake Michigan, early yesterday morning, and it is supposed that all on board, including some thirty or forty passengers, have perished.

THE LATE Maryland Legislature in revising the school law of the State, abolished the provision by which the fourth of July was made a holiday in the schools. The same Legislature has been accused of doing many things which indicated an intense spirit of disloyalty to the Union, but this abolition of the National holiday is doubtless only a proof of equally intense devotion to the cause of popular education.

RECENT experience in the financial world has convinced the public of the existence of a serious error in the National Banking system. It is agreed on all sides that the provision requiring all the banks to make up their quarterly statements on a day fixed by law and known in advance, must invariably result, as it did a few days since, in a very considerable temporary derangement of the money market, for the two or three preceding weeks while these institutions are thus preparing themselves to make a good exhibit. It is proposed to change this provision, requiring, instead, a statement to be made to the Comptroller, exhibing the condition of the banks upon any past day at his discretion. This would obviate the mischief resulting from the preparation for artificial exhibits, and would operate permanently as a wholesome check upon any improper use of the banking privileges.

A NEW YORK JOURNAL having stated that Gen. GRANT was in favor of the impeachment and removal of the President, the statement has been taken by the Democratic press as an authorized and official exposition of his opinions, and he is accordingly denounced unsparingly, by these consistent friends of free speech, for what they represent to be an attempt to overawe the Senate by military power. Unfortunately, however, all their fine writing, its indignant eloquence, its vehement protests, its glowing vindication of the independence of an American Senate, &c., &c., is so much ink shed for nought. Gen. GRANT has made an explicit denial that he had ever authorized the statement as made in the New York paper. He undoubtedly exercises that freedom in opinion, and in private conversation with his friends, in behalf of which the Democratic newspapers have been industriously defending Mr. JOHNSON, but, far more discreet and self-contained than the Presidential orator, he reserves all official expression of his sentiments for suitable occasions as they may arise. His denial of the authority of the journal in question to speak for him in that way is well known at the Capital, and has been telegraphed generally to the press. This does not content his Democratic assailants; they would have him make a formal publication, contradicting that and every other paragraph about him with which the newspapers abound. The General has never been in the habit of wasting powder in that way.

THE GREAT FIRE of 1845 affords to the older citizens of Pittsburgh the most prominent chronological topic of discussion in the history of this city. The date of its recurrence, its precise origin, the state of the atmosphere, the extent of the destruction and the rapidity with which the fire did its terrible work, the districts which it swept over, its influence upon the history and fortunes of themselves and their neighbors, the permanent effect, directly and indirectly, upon the external characteristics of the town,—all these points are regularly discussed, and mingled with the narration of interesting incidents of personal experience, quite as often as the anniversary of the great event, upon this 10th day of April, comes around. And the press, with constant uniformity, marks the return of a day which, twenty-three years ago, was so terribly disastrous to Pittsburgh. We follow the usual example only so far as to say that, by a fire, which commenced at noon of that day, near Front and Ferry streets, in the brief space of nine hours, a densely populated and closely improved area of fifty-six acres, being over twenty squares of ground in the heart of the city, was completely swept over and every building destroyed, causing a loss then estimated at nearly four millions of dollars. Twenty-three years have since elapsed, and, if you would now see a noble monument to the energy and success of the business men of Pittsburgh, traverse the district once so fearfully devastated, then penetrate into every quarter of the rapidly extending suburbs, and afterwards ascend one of the grand hills which tower above the confluent streams, and look about you.

RECONSTRUCTION NOT A FAILURE.

Arkansas has adopted her Constitution, and her new Legislature, now in session at Little Rock, will send to Washington, before the end of the next week, that instrument for the approval of Congress, together with two Senators to be admitted as soon as the State shall be thus recognized.

The South Carolina election commences to-morrow, continuing until the 16th. The Constitution to be submitted resembles that just adopted in Arkansas, in its just, liberal and well guarded provisions for securing all private rights, for the promotion of education and intelligence, and for the encouragement and protection of a spirit of loyal obedience to the Federal supremacy. But the old rebel element of her population evince no disposition to interest themselves in such a surrender of all the political heresies and class-prejudices which have in other years been peculiarly the boast of her great slave-holding aristocracy. Consequently, we hear of but one candidate for Governor, Gen. R. K. SCOTT, who runs on the Republican ticket, and its success is a matter of absolute certainty.

The Louisiana election takes place April 17th and 18th. A few of the members of the recent Convention have pronounced against the Constitution, and the Conservatives therefore are encouraged to hope, from the aid of those dissentients, for success in their active opposition to it. But the latest advices are that the instrument will be adopted, and the Republican ticket, headed by WARMOUTH for Governor, will be elected.

Georgia votes on the 20th, the election continuing to the 24th, Col. BULLOCK heading the Republican ticket for Governor, and North Carolina votes from the 21st to the 23d, with Governor HOLDEN at the head of the Republican nominations. In these States, the elections will be sharply contested by all the rebel-democratic-conservative element, aided to some extent by local causes of discontent among the Republicans. Great confidence is, however, felt in well-informed quarters that the new Constitutions will be adopted and the officers of civil governments under them chosen.

We see no reason to doubt that, by the 15th of May, we shall see all the machinery of the new civil organizations in the States of Louisiana and South Carolina completed, and waiting only the approving sanction of Congress to set them in motion. If Georgia, North Carolina and Mississippi shall prefer military rule to self government, and an entire exclusion from any Federal rights except that of protection under the Federal laws, to the full restoration to all former privileges which is now offered to them upon the just and yet generous conditions prescribed, they will signify it by their votes next week. But the experience of Alabama will teach its proper lesson to the rebels of these other States; they will perceive that nothing is gained in the refusal to adopt Constitutions which may, nevertheless, as in Alabama, be subsequently prescribed for them, as the basis of provisional governments, to continue until wiser and more patriotic impulses shall control their people. They will not be forever blind. Sooner or later, they will accept the inexorable destiny which awaits them, the necessity of an unconditional submission to the power, which subdued their armed opposition, and which will never stop short until it shall have secured a complete acknowledgment of the political necessities which must control the solution of all the remaining difficulties. With three of these States restored, the others will, sooner or later, see their interest in following the example. Each State restored weakens the moral force of the recusant spirit which animates the rebels of the States still unreconstructed. Indeed the admission of the first of them, Arkansas, cannot fail of so increasing the prestige of loyalty and of so stimulating the popular, practical appreciation of the higher political and material advantages of acquiescence in the paramount and inflexible requirements of the Federal power, that it is sure to operate most beneficially upon intelligent sentiment in all of the other States. Were the Arkansas Senators in their seats to-day, and the State fully under the government of its recently chosen officers at Little Rock, the practical argument which it would afford, would conclusively decide all these remaining elections in the interests of a loyal reconstruction.

The situation is embarrassing to politicians and a painful one for patriots in any section of the Union. But, however much it may divide and distract public sentiment in the North, the Southern States themselves experience all its evils with a bitterness manifold greater. The loyal States recognize the inflexible necessity of a patient adherence to their policy, which will not relax a finger from its firm grasp upon Southern rebellion in any of its forms. This policy will be adhered to. There is not the remotest possibility of its abandonment, neither this year, the next, nor for five years to come. In much less time than that, the obstinacy of the Southern people will yield to the logic of events, and they will return to their obligations and privileges under the Federal laws, convinced by their interests and in spite of their still lingering and hesitating pride. They have for three years awaited the Northern "reaction" which was promised for them by their Democratic brethren. This "reaction" comes in in the shape of an offending Executive impeached and removed, of a Congress with nearly three-fourths of its members in each House uncompromisingly pledged to the enforcement of a rigid and unconditional policy of reconstruction, of a Senate which, by no contingency possible under ordinary human calculations, can be otherwise than loyally animated during the entire period of GRANT'S administration, of a House which no politician, not even the blindest Copperhead, can suppose to be in danger of exchanging its present Republican character for the control of the Democracy. Southern politicians have watched and waited in vain; nowhere in the field of Northern politics can the acutest or most hopeful of them discover any sign that the great popular heart beats with impulses less loyal and resolute than when a million of armed men went marching on to rescue the Union from its enemies. There is a limit to all human patience, and neither Southern strength nor pride can endure the trial for five years to come.

The day can no longer be very far distant when the Southern people will perceive the utter hopelessness of protracted resistance. They will see that nothing has been gained either by arms or by their passive, sullen refusal to accept the situation. They will see that they are no stronger to-day, either in themselves or in the Northern alliance and sympathy which they have relied on, than in April, 1865. And, seeing this, one State after another, they will yield to the pressure of necessities and return loyally to the Union.

A PLEA FOR THE FASHIONABLE.

A strong tendency exists among many people to decry and depreciate fashionable people. Even Mr. GOUGH, in his lecture on "Curiosity," descends to this. Descends, because it shows either gross ignorance or a mean, pitiful spirit of envy or narrow mindedness quite beneath the level of most of that great orator's views. Even some bodies of men, calling themselves Christians, demean themselves in a like manner. Because men choose to hold different views of right and wrong, or to live in a different manner from others, must those others necessarily hiss them down? This was the view of the powers of the Roman Church during the early days of the reformation; of the Pagans during the infancy of Christianity; of the Jews during the last half century of their existence as a nation, and of the Puritans who fled from blind persecution in England only to themselves become persecutors in a ten-fold degree in America.

In very many cases the people who decry and defame people of fashion do so only because they know their own inability to themselves become so. For in all large towns in the civilized world the people of the highest fashion use good language and grammar, as well as good clothes, and behave themselves decorously and according to the general laws of etiquette recognized the world over. But, in fact, fashionable people need no advocate; they themselves are their own vindicators. The history of the world shows very few prominent characters who, if they did not start as fashionable people, did not end as such. What soldiers fought more bravely than the swells of the English Horse Guards during the Crimea? The gallant six hundred at Balaklava were many of them of high standing in the gay world. Geo. Washington was a gentleman of fashion, who delighted in riding behind six white horses, and in sending out cards printed in England for his evening receptions. Many of the nurses and most of the subsistence committees during the late war were ladies of fashion; all of the prominent men and women of America have had more or less experience of fashionable life. Florence Nightingale, Byron, Lafayette, Goethe, Napoleon, Maria Therese, Gustavus Adolphus, and even Julius Caesar and Alexander the Great, were people of fashion, and many of them leaders of the Ton. With such overwhelming facts staring him in the face, it really seems quite incomprehensible how Mr. GOUGH could join the ranks of the narrow-minded and allow his influence to be weakened by lending himself to so vulgar and absurd a prejudice; and we do not find any such prejudice existing among learned men, who from choice, and not from inability, keep aloof from fashionable life.

AN IMPARTIAL VIEW OF IMPEACHMENT.

We annex from the Washington correspondence of the New York Times, a very clear, distinct and impartial statement of the position of the case as it stands at the close of the Managers' testimony. It is the more worthy of consideration since the journal in which we find it does not editorially declare itself partizan, and has been in fact, during the progress of the trial, as prompt to censure the Republican party, as any journal, not avowedly Democratic, which has come under our notice. The writer states the case, in its present position, as follows:

"The case as made by the prosecution, though not developing much that is new, is yet conceded to substantiate all the specific charges of the articles, except the ninth, so far as oral and record evidence can do it. The chief questions are, after all, the questions of law, and after all that the prosecution claim is admitted by the defense, there still remains the original theory set up by Mr. Johnson, that having done all these things, he has nevertheless violated no law. As to the evidence, it can safely be said that the following points are fully proven, namely: that the President first suspended Mr. Stanton under the Tenure of Office act; that he recognized that act by conforming to it in repeated instances; that he absolutely removed Mr. Stanton during the session of the Senate, without its consent, in violation of the act of 1789; that he appointed Gen. Thomas Secretary of War ad interim in violation of the act of 1867; that Gen. Thomas, acting upon the order of the President, did attempt to take possession of the War Office, and was only prevented from using force in so doing by the intervention of Mr. Stanton's legal proceedings; that he did attempt to exercise the functions of the office, in giving orders and signing himself Secretary of War ad interim; that the speeches made upon the Chicago trip were actually made as reported, whatever shade of misdemeanor they may establish; and that the President, in dealing with the Senate, has steadily maintained that he did not recognize the Tenure of Office act, while in dealing with appointments and removals under it, he has uniformly respected its provisions except in this one instance of the last removal of the Secretary of War. Whether the Tenure of Office has been violated depends upon a law question, as to whether the act covers Mr. STANTON'S case. It does, the prosecution will have no trouble in proving its violation, as they have allready proved that for certain purposes the President conceded it to be valid law, while for others he did not. On this point, the most elaborate arguments will be made, and it will be one which the Senators will find it most difficult to decide, as some of them are on record heretofore to the effect that the law did not touch Mr. STANTON'S case. It will be by a very close vote, if at all, that a verdict of guilty is rendered on this article.

One of the points which it is understood the defense will attempt to prove, and which they will maintain with all their ability, is that in all these acts the President intended no violation of the law. They all maintain the well known principle of common law, that to prove a crime the intent must be fully shown. But against this the prosecution will set up the well established fact that in the last removal of Mr. Stanton he did actually violate a law, on the ground, as he maintains in his answer, that it is no law, having nevertheless repeatedly recognized its validity by performing various actions under it. The matter of intent, therefore, the Managers claim is fully established. The charges of the ninth and tenth articles are among those on which, if on any, a verdict of not guilty will be rendered.

THE KU-KLUX-KLAN.

A letter from Augusta, Georgia, to the New York World, a Democratic journal, gives the annexed sketch of this secret organization:

"And now, to leave a pleasant story, let me say a word of the Ku-Klux. Everybody, by this time, must have heard of the Klan—the Ku-Klux Klan—'K. K. K. Beware!'—and wondered what it was all about. Ku-Klux, then, is a secret organization, of late origin in the South, having its birth-place in Middle Tennessee, and now spreading like wild-fire all through this country. It is in Mississippi, and in Alabama, and all over Tennessee, and in Louisiana, and, following Sherman's track in Georgia, is sweeping down through this State into Florida, and out into Virginia, Maryland, and the Carolinas. Wherever a petty tyrant, or a great one, oppresses the people, there the K. K. K. rears its head, and, wherever there are soldiers' graves the order has a 'Den.' The idea put forth is that the dead Confederate rises at midnight, and, forming into the Pale Brigade, rides forth to redress the wrongs inflicted on those for whom he died. Dire portents are said to be seen by night, mystic lights and cloudy forms, and squadrons that go charging by, all in skeleton forms, mounted on shadowy steeds that move with the speed of the whirlwind and without a sound. The negroes, superstitious at all times, given over to belief in Obi and conjuration, and the Evil Eye, are in hnge perturbation at the K. K. K. This Cuff has met in his midnight rambles a man, and, falling into converse therewith, has suddenly heard his bones rattle or seen fiery lights in a fleshless head, and, of course, knowing this was Ku-Klux, has fled. And then that Sambo, not to be outdone in trepidation or lying by Cuff, has had his hand shaken at his own cabin door, and found, 'bress de Lor', skeleton fingers left within his palm. 'Ku-Klux!' if but whispered after nightfall, is a sound to scare the Great Enfranchised into fits. Great throughout the South is now his fear. And whereas, once he prowled about at all honrs, haunting the Loyal League, and drinking in poor, impressible, doomed barbarian—the murderous talk of incendiary Reconstructionist agents, now he keeps close within doors after sundown. Mysterious placards appear in public places. Men are pointed out as a probable Grand Cyclops or a possible High White Death, and in the midst of all this superstition and surmise and joking, the fact appears that there is a Ku-Klux-Klan that is growing with the rapidity of a snow-ball rolling in the snow. No man enters the order but a 'true man,' and a true man is one that hates a tyraut. History is full of instances where a people greatly oppressed, and with no present remedy, have had secret organizations arise among them to dispense a wild justice in those cases where the laws are powerless to either protect or avenge. Let the reader turn to Anne of Gierstein, book second and accompanying notes, and he will there find an old time original of the Ku-Klux in the German Vehmgericht, or Tribunal of the Bounds. As stated, this K. K. order arose in Middle Tennessee, a section of the State peculiarly oppressed by Brownlow and his myrmidons, and was, doubtless, originally only intended as a species of Regulator organization for local use—the numberless sepulchers of brave men slain in the Western campaigns in those regions furnishing the hint for the peculiar insignia and phraseology of the Klan. But, similia similibus, like oppressions elsewhere existing have superinduced a like state of mind to that in which the Ku-Klux had its origin in Tennessee, and the Klan has branched out in almost all the other Southern States. How far the organization really extends, or what are its entire or ultimate purposes, it is hard to tell; but in quitting the subject, it may be said that it appears to meet with all but universal favor, and promises some developments 'ere long of interest.

"When at Augusta it is but a step for you to leave the State, and in leaving it it is impossible to restrain a sigh over a great commonwealth now given over by a fragmentary and misrepresentative Congress into turbulence, apprehension and gloom."

It suits a certain partizan view of current events to deny the existence of any secret organization in the Southern States, having for its object systematic assaults upon the property and lives of such citizens as have become, by their avowed Union sentiments, obnoxious to their rebel neighbors. But the evidence that such secret organization does exist, is indisputable, while the treasonable and atrocious nature of its operations has become so dangerously manifest that it has at last obtained the closest cognizance from the military authorities. We print elsewhere an article from a well known Democratic journal, which fully admits the existence and objects of the Ku Klux Klan.

THAT RECUSANT DIVINE, Dr. Tyng, needs more reprimands. Undismayed by the awful example which the Episcopal censure has made of him, he has again been guilty of preaching in Baptist and Methodist churches.

CONGRESSIONAL.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—The name of A. M. BROWN, Esq., has been mentioned in connection with Congressional honors in this district, through your columns. Can you inform many Republicans whether he will accept the nomination if tendered? No gentleman in the district can rally more friends, nor can any present a fairer political record or better qualities for the position.

RADICAL REPUBLICAN.

[NOTE.—We are in the receipt of a number of communications of similar character, advocating Mr. BROWN for Congress, and would respectfully ask a card from him bearing on the subject.]

The Methodist Church on Impeachment.

Nothing so significantly proves that public opinion demands the impeachment and removal of Andrew Johnson from the Presidantial chair as the appeals and prayers and resolutions of the great religious bodies. The spirit that prevailed during the war is everywhere revived, and there is not a newspaper, a great divine, or philanthropist, identified with the cause of the country in that great struggle, that does not now invoke speedy action from the Senate. The following report, by the New England Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Boston, Massachusetts, was unanimously adopted on Saturday last, all the members rising, amid much enthusiasm:

We give thanks to our Lord and Saviour for leading our nation through the blood and fire and vapor of smoke which for four years enshrouded us in a sulphurous canopy.

We especially praise His name that in this hour of national agony the greatest crime of history perished from the land.

We rejoice that in carrying forward the work of national regeneration the Congress of the United States has been so faithful to the will of God in building up our ruined State organizations on the only just and enduring foundations of equal and fraternal oneness of man.

We deeply regret the constant and violent hostility of the President of the United States to the action of Congress and the will of the people in respect to his duty, and that it has compelled his impeachment for high crimes and misdemeanors before the Senate of the United States.

We hereby heartily and solemnly approve of this action of the House of Representatives, and trust the honorable Senate and the Chief Justice of the United States in this most important trial will magnify our laws and make them honorable in the eyes of all nations.

We cordially approve the action of Ulysses S. Grant, General of the Army of the United States, in yielding up the keys of his office as Secretary of War ad interim to the regular Secretary immediately on the decision of the Senate as to the right of occupancy. We also commend his whole action in this critical history as inspiring confidence in the Republic, and as showing to all nations that in America her first Generals are obedient to law, in both drawing and sheathing the sword of victory.

We most gratefully recognize the sagacity, courage and faithfulness of Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, the Secretary of War. We honor his great services during the war, and those equally valuable which he has rendered in this our last struggle with the slave power. May God preserve him in his high trust until the rebellion, whether in the White House or in its Southern departments, shall be utterly put down!

As our nation has been conducted through this long, perilous and bloody controversy by the spirit of God through the prayers of this Church, we request the members of our churches and all Christians to be unwearied in their supplications that the consummating of the conflict now going forward may be conformed to all its previous steps, and obtain for us as a nation, the continued and crowning blessings of God.

Resolved, That a copy of this report be sent to the Secretary of War, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President of the Senate, and the Chief Justice and General of the Army of the United States.

How Connecticut Was Carried.

The Hartford Courant of April 4th, two days before the election in Connecticut, indicates the tactics of the Democrats by which the State was carried for the Democratic Governor. The charges of frauds in New Haven have been proved true by the result of the vote there, as well as by the facts stated by the Courant as follows:

"In the Second ward when the Registrars came to sign the list, the Republican, Mr. Andrews, pointed out a great many bogus names, and demanded that they should be stricken off before he signed. He offered to go with the Democratic Registrar to the streets and houses, in which these bogus voters were said to live, and show him there were no such voters there. The Democrat refused to do so. The Republican persisted in refusing to sign until the corrections were made. He was assaulted. The list was torn away from him. He was visited by the Democratic Mayor and others who tried to intimidate him. It was only when papers were got ready to enjoin the list from being printed until it was signed, that the Democrats yielded and permitted the two Registrars to take the list and revise it. The result was that over sixty names were stricken off by the consent of the Democratic Registrar. Of these only four appealed and were restored by the selectmen."

After the sixty bogus names were struck off the list the Republican Registrar pursued his investigations and found fifty more fraudulent names on the list as made out by the Democrats. To avoid further exposure the Democratic Registrar told some of the persons at the houses where inquiries were made concerning the residence of the bogus voters, that they need answer no questions.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Williams.

In the case of Rev. S. Washington vs. Thomas M. Bell, previously reported, the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,191.

The first case taken up yesterday was that of Mary Kirkland vs. Isaac N. Gill. This was an action in dower to recover plaintiff's portion of the annual rental of houses and land in Patton township. The jury found that Joseph Kirkland did not die siezed of the premises mentioned in the plaintiff's declaration. That the whole annual value of the said premises is two hundred dollars, the third part of which they found to be sixty dollars.

Augustus Hartje vs. D. Rinehart and J. A. Harten. This was an action to recover the value of several promissory notes. On trial.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

DE LUNATICO ENQUIRENDO.

James Pitcairn was placed on trial on an indictment charging him with committing a felonious assault upon John McConnell. The parties were boarding at Connor's, on Hand street. On an evening in February last McConnell returned from his work, and was about retiring to bed. In passing Pitcairn's room he saw him (Pitcairn) lying upon his bed and thought there was something strange in his appearance—his eyes unusually bright and rolling. While passing up stairs McConnell heard footsteps behind him, and turning round saw Pitcairn following him, having a pistol in his hand. Pitcairn immediately discharged the pistol, aiming fortunately too high, the ball striking the wall above McConnell's head. Pitcairn returned to his room and McConnell following him, a scuffle ensued, in which McConnell was much injured, Pitcairn endeavoring to gouge out one of his eyes, in which he might have succeeded but for the interference of Mr. Connor, the keeper of the boarding house. There had been no difficulty previously, and there seemed to be no cause for the murderous attack. After his arrest, Pitcairn expressed regret that he had failed in his attempt on the life of McConnell. For the defense a number of witnesses were called, who testified Pitcairn was of unsound mind; although they had not known him to be predisposed to violence, they had looked upon him as insane for some ten years. His conduct was described as singular. At times he was moody and silent for hours, declining to converse, and on other occasions he would suddenly become merry, laugh immoderately, and when he did converse would talk strangely and incoherently of matters entirely irrelevant to the subject of conversation. In speaking about the attempt to shoot, and when asked why he had so acted, he maintained that he had a right to shoot himself, which he had done, contending that McConnell assumed his body and that, therefore, the man he had attempted to shoot was James Pitcairn. A brother testified that the family had for years believed him to be insane, and he had become so troublesome that it was considered dangerous for him to be at home with his mother. It was noticed that when "the fit was on him" his eyes assumed a strange, glaring appearance, were enlarged and indicated unusual excitement. During the trial the prisoner frequently smiled, seeming amused at the endeavor to establish his insanity. Of this, however, the evidence left but little, if any, doubt, and the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity at the time of the commission of the act." The prisoner was remanded and proper disposition will be made of him.

Edward Maher was arraigned on two indictments for assault and battery, the charges having been preferred by Michael Maher, and Ann Maher, brother and sister-in-law of the defendant. Michael Maher testified that the defendant was of unsound mind, and that the assault was committed while he was in an irritable humor, resulting from his malady. From the demeanor of the defendant in Court, it was apparent that he was of unsound mind. Verdict not guilty.

Jacob and Louis Seiferth were arraigned on a charge of assault and battery preferred by their father, Jacob Seiferth, Sr. The parties reside on a farm in McClure township, and the dispute occurred about the use of a horse.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

The case of Paul Jacobs vs. Pennsylvania Railroad Company occupied the entire session without being concluded.

Thirty-Eighth Annual Report of the Female Bible Society of Allegheny, April 6th, 1868.

Another year of our life as a Society has passed, and as we pause to look back, its days, weeks and months pass in review before us. What is the record? Do we see any fruit of our labors? Have we encouragement to persevere?

Did we rely on our own strength we would surely be discouraged; but knowing there is no power for good equal to the word of God, and that however humble our efforts may appear to men, they will be approved by Him who notices even the fall of a sparrow, we press on, trusting that in the end it may be said of each one of us, "She hath done what she could."

And when we consider our position as merely auxiliary to the American Bible Society, we feel we do our part in the great work; that in its successful working we can rejoice, feeling that our contribution helps the great work. By the Treasurer's report it will be seen that the collections for this year are fully up to the last. We have made four persons life members and Dr. Happer, Missionary to China, a life director in the American Bible Society.

The demand for Bibles in our midst is not as great, owing in some degree to the number of similar societies in the city. We gave out last year seven German Bibles, eight English, and one Bohemian Bible, one large print Testament and Psalms. We have also given twelve Bibles to a Sabbath School at Woods Run, twelve for distribution in the Penitentiary, and twenty-two to a clergyman from Virginia, whose congregation had suffered greatly during the war. The lives of all our members have been preserved, and as we enter upon another year's work may it be with new resolves to do more than ever before in the great work of distributing the Bible, till the whole world shall be evangelized.

The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. F. R. Brunot.
Vice President—Mrs. Sands.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. R. S. Hays.
Recording Secretary—Miss Mary George.
Managers—Mrs. Brunot, Mrs. Sands, Mrs. Hays, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Dickey, Mrs. Jamison, Mrs. Sawyer, Mrs. Swift, Miss Henderson, Miss Whitten, Miss Pressly, Miss George, Miss Nimick, Miss Blackstock, Miss Herron, Miss Thompson.

Mrs. E. E. Sawyer, in account with Ladies' Bible Society, April 8, 1868:

DR.

To Collections and Subscriptions	$385 63
To Collection at Annual Sermon	43 92
	$429 55

Another Effort.

Some time since we published an account of a case in which Dr. J. B. Herron was prosecutor and A. W. Foster defendant, charged with obtaining medicines and medical service under false pretence. It was alleged by the prosecutor that he attended the family of the accused for several months and furnished drugs and medicines for which he received no remuneration, the defendant representing that his father was wealthy and would settle the bill whenever presented, and upon these representations the services were rendered. He further alleges that after waiting some time for his pay he made out his bill and forwarded it to the father at Baltimore, who repudiated it. He then made the information for false pretence, which for some reason was withdrawn. Yesterday he made information before Alderman Humbert charging Foster with fraud, in which he accuses him, as in the former information, with fraudulently obtaining medicines and medical services. Foster was arrested, and after a hearing held to bail for his appearance at Court. The information was sent up and will probably come before the Grand Jury to-day.

—The billiard match for the championship of America and $1,000, between John McDevitt and Melvin Foster, closed at half-past twelve o'clock, at Chicago, Wednesday night. The largest runs were: Foster, 197, 126, 235. McDevitt, 244, 293, 342. On the fifty-ninth inning the balls were nearly all together at the lower left hand corner. McDevitt caroming upon one, struck the cushion and apparently passed between the other two. He himself appeared to think so, as he turned away from the table. His umpire, however, claimed that a count was made, Foster's umpire claiming the opposite. The referee was called for his decision, which he gave in favor of McDevitt. Upon this Foster put on his coat and left the room. Not returning, calls were made for a decision upon the game, which was rendered in favor of McDevitt, the score standing: McDevitt, 1,268; Foster, 1,162.

—The Nevada Republican State Convention met at Carson yesterday, and delegates to the Chicago Convention were elected. Grant was unanimously chosen for the next President. Resolutions were adopted approving to the reconstruction measures of Congress and the impeachment.

GOOD HEALTH

IS THE GREATEST OF ALL BLESSINGS,

And to preserve it is the privilege and duty of all.

DR. SARGENT'S

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC AND LIVER PILLS

Are the great sovereign, speedy and sure cure of the age, for Dyspepsia, either in its mildest or worst stages, and hundreds who have long suffered under the inflictions of this most annoying and dangerous disease, have by the use of this invaluable medicine been restored to health and the enjoyment of life.

Is your Liver in a torpid condition of inaction, thereby deranging the whole system?

DR. SARGENT'S LIVER PILLS

Will speedily remove the secretions and restore it to a healthy state.

Are you troubled with loss of appetite, foul stomach, eructations of wind, sick headache and general derangement of the digestive organs?

DR. SARGENT'S LIVER PILLS

Are a sure, safe and permanent remedy, and by their mild but certain action will cleanse, renovate and reinvigorate the system.

DR. SARGENT'S LIVER PILLS stand high as one of the standard medicines of the age. For the cure of all diseases arising from a disordered state of the liver, as can be attested by the certificates of large numbers of our citizens who have been benefited and cured by their use.

These Pills can be obtained, either Plain or Sugar Coated, from all Druggists in the country.

UNRIVALLED.

Nothing that has ever been known or heard of a tonic adds so much to the resistant power of the human system, under circumstances unfavorable to health, as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. If you would escape the intermittent fevers, fits of indigestion, bilious attacks and bowel complaints, of which cold and damp are the frequent causes, use the BITTERS as a PROTECTIVE MEDICINE. This is the wisest course; but if already an invalid, try the preparation as a RESTORATIVE. In either case full reliance may be placed upon its efficacy.

There is no mystery about the causes of its success. It is the only stomachic and alterative in which are combined the grand requisites of a mild, pure and unvitiated vegetable stimulant, with the finest selection of tonic, anti-bilious, anti-scorbutic, aperient and depurative herbs, plants, roots and barks that have ever been intermixed in a medicinal preparation.

The Bitters have this distinctive quality, which is not shared, it is believed, by any tonic, tincture or extract in the world. It does not excite the pulse, though it infuses a wonderful degree of vigor into the nervous system, and strengthens and sustains the whole physical organization.

California and Australia have emphatically endorsed it as the MINER'S MEDICINE par excellence, and in Spanish America and all the tropical climate, it is considered the only reliable antidote to epidemic fevers.

The already immense and still increasing consumption of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, backed by many of the most influential physicians throughout the country, should convince the most skeptical that it is worthy the confidence and approbation of all.

ANOTHER CURE OF DEAFNESS.

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, from an advertisement, to make application to DR. KEYSER, 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh. After having tried various medicines from doctors, without any benefit, I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop. JOHN SCANLAN,

Coal Bluffs, Washington Co., Pa.

ANOTHER CURE.

A man called to-day at Dr. Keyser's office to inform him of a great cure made by his LUNG CURE, or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE. list these cures are made with the Doctor's preparations, he desires it to be distinctly understood that most of his great cures are made in accordance with the established laws that govern the science of medicine, in which he has been engaged for the past twenty-five years. Last week he was also in receipt of a letter from a clergyman in the State of Ohio, detailing another most wonderful cure.

FOUR EDITIONS

IN TWO WEEKS!

LITTLE, BROWN & CO.,

110 Washington St., Boston,

Have just published a FOURTH EDITION of

THE SPIRIT OF SEVENTY-SIX,

OR,

THE COMING WOMAN.

A PROPHETIC DRAMA.

Cloth, $1.00. Paper, 75 cents. Fine paper, tinted, $1.75.

FOR SALE BY ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Sent by mail on receipt of price.

"The play hinges upon the absurdities of a female Assessor, a female Judge of the Supreme Court, and a female politician, and the ludicrous aspects of a state of society in which women make proposals of marriage to men, and every bachelor is exposed to two hundred thousand offers, more or less. These ideas are carried out with great humor. The play has caused a marked sensation in Boston, where it has been acted by some of the elite for the benefit of the Cretans."—N. Y. Nation.

"The Spirit of '76—not 1776, but 1876—is the name of a spirited parlor drama which has given lively pleasure to select social circles in Boston. It gives a somewhat extravagant, and therefore amusingly, emphatic picture of what might be the condition of society and the facts of daily life, if the extreme aspirations of the Woman's Rights party were practically fulfilled. Very witty is the dialogue, very comic are the situations, very incongruous the relative positions."—N. Y. Evening Post."

"A delicious morceau, made a capital success by the delicate humor, the many sharp hits and the amusing situations which it introduces."—Boston Post.

WANTED.

WANTED—A GOOD GERMAN GARDNER. A sober, industrious married man, with a small family, to take charge of and live on a garden farm within nineteen miles of the city. There is a good brick house of six rooms, kitchen, hall and cellar, for the gardener to occupy, and to whom liberal wages will be paid, for one that is competent and trustworthy. For particulars inquire of G. H. TOWER, Real Estate Agent, ap8:o16 No. 164 Fourth St., Pittsburgh.

WANTED.—AGENTS FOR THE OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WAR: Its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results. By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS. A Book for all sections and parties.

This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the Causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

The intense desire every where manifested to obtain this work, combined with an increased commission, makes it the best subscription book ever published.

One Agent in Easton, Pa., reports 72 subscribers in three days.

Another in Boston reports 103 subscribers in four days.

Send for circulars and see our terms, and a full description of the work, with notices of the Press, &c.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 9, 1868.

Gold was remarkably firm to-day, and has advanced from 138¼ to 138¾, with a further advancing tendency. It was the continued Government sales and the extreme stringency of the money market that kept down prices, but with a large short interest outstanding uncovered, the firmness of the foreign exchange market considered, and the increasing demand for shipments, all point towards a higher premium and lower rates for bonds in Europe.

Government securities had reached their highest point yesterday at noon; towards the close the market was dull and weak, and to-day a general decline of ¾ to one per cent. took place. The advance was too sudden to be sustained, and lower quotations may ensue before a rise will take place again.

Stocks declined with the general market and most of the clique stocks are all lower with little business doing. The local money market, though easier, is by no means in a very favorable condition, and needy borrowers have to submit to very high rates. Long paper is unsaleable, and small amounts to be placed on mortgages are much inquired for; 12 per cent. is the ruling rate for any well secured bond.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 138¾; 1881 bonds, 112¾; 1862 5-20s, 111¼; 1864 do, 109¼; 1865 do, 109; Consols, 107⅝; 10-40s, 102; 7-30s, 106⅛.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 9, 1868.

CRUDE—The market continues exceedingly quiet, the demand both for present and future delivery, being light, though with an extremely light supply and very meagre arrivals, there is but little offering, and holders, as a general, thing, refuse to make concessions. We can report 500 bbls for immediate delivery, at 8¾c; and we also heard of a sale—amount not named—to be delivered on first water, at 8⅝c. There is no life or animation in the business; operators, generally, are discouraged, and what is worse still, is the fact that the prospects for the future are by no means bright. Speculators are not numerous, and even those who have the nerve, are very timid, in consequence of the stringency in money matters; and with but very few exceptions, those who have been speculating in oil during the past year or two, have been unfortunate, and as a consequence, do not feel like giving it another trial.

REFINED—There are no new features in the market for bonded oil worthy of special notice. We have but a single sale to report, 1000 bbls on spot, at 25c; we are cognizant of offers to buy June at 26c, and July at 26½c. May is still quoted at 25½c, and all the year, buyer's option, at 31c. The steady decline at Antwerp for several days past is having its effect in stagnating the trade, and while sellers here are scarce and as obstinate as ever, buyers are asking for concessions, and during the past two or three days prices have declined from one-quarter to one-half a cent per gallon.

BENZOLE—Sale of 500 bbls for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, at 13c.

OIL SHIPMENTS FROM DUQUESNE DEPOT.

Hutchinson Oil Co., 66 bbls refined to Waring, King & Co., Philadelphia.

Hutchinson Oil Co., 52 do do to E. Schalk, Philadelphia.

Clark & Co., 50 bbls lubricating oil, to O. P. Phillips, Philadelphia.

Fisher & Bro., 6 bbls crude to W.P. Logan & Bro., Philadelphia.

W. G. Bane, 50 do do to Wallace & Curtiss, Philadelphia.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—In dry goods the market is generally good, but far from being active; some are disposed to call trade dull and not at all satisfactory; the fact is that buyers are not willing to pay the advance for certain styles of cotton goods, which was recently established, forgetting at the same time that these were sold at prices below cost. Manufacturers, on the contrary, talk prices up strong in sympathy with cotton. Printed cloths, in light stock, are buoyant at 9½ for standard makes; prints are more or less freely but steady at previous rates. Heavy brown sheetings are firm at 19c for Atlantic A, Appleton A and Indian Head; 12½c for Pacific, Amoskeag A, Starts A, New Market R. R., Laconia H, Pacific H, and Atlantic H; 16½c for Howard; 16c for Swift River and 20c for Pequot A; 20c for Androscoggin. Bleached muslins at 28c; Manville, 20c; New Market 21½c; Nashua, 19c; Amoskeag A, 18½; Tip Top, 17c. Langdon and Jamas steam mills; and 21c for Forestdale and Wauregan.

Chicago Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 9.—Beef cattle more active; sales at $5,75a6,37½ for common; $6,50 a7,50 for light steers, and $7,75a8,75 for good to choice.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 9, 1868.

The general markets are quiet and devoid of any new characteristics worthy of special notice. We can report a continued steady demand for all of the leading articles, and that, too, at full prices.

APPLES—Quiet but steady and unchanged; regular sales in store at $3 to $6 per bbl, as to quality.

POTATOES—Firm, with a demand fully up to the supply, and prices are well sustained. We continue to quote Peach Blows at $3,25 to $3,50, and Buckeyes at $4,00 to $4,50. Jersey Sweets, $8.

SEEDS—Clover Seed is in good supply and dull but unchanged; we continue to quote at $7 to $7,50 for Clover; Timothy at $2,75, and Flax at $2,50 to $2,55.

FLOUR—Is firm, with a slightly improved demand, but prices are unchanged. We can report sales of "Ford" at $11; "Honest Mills," $11; "Keystone," $10,75; "White Star," $11,25; "Columbia," $10,75; "Smoky City," $11; "Mad River," $12; "Pride of the West," $11,75; "Carey's XXXX," $12,25. St. Louis Fancy brands, $15 to $16. Rye Flour, $9,50.

BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged; sales of prime to choice Roll at 45 to 50c.

EGGS—The demand seems to be rather better, and prices are a shade higher, having advanced to 22@23c — mostly at 22c.

HAY—Baled Hay is selling on wharf at $22 to $24, as to quality. Loose Hay from country wagons may be quoted at $24 to $28 per ton.

DRIED FRUIT—Is steady with a fair local demand at 7 to 8c for Apples, and 11 to 11½c and 12c for Peaches.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat is quiet and unchanged—none in market. Oats steady at 75 to 76c on track, and 79 to 80c in store. Corn is quoted at 90 to 95c, on wharf and dull. Rye $1,75 to $1,80. No movement in Barley. Stocks of all kinds of Grain pretty well reduced.

CHEESE—Steady with regular sales at 17c for Factory, and 18c for Goshen.

LARD OIL—Is firm and in steady demand at $1,10 for No. 2, and $1,35 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm and unchanged; we continue to quote at 13c for Shoulders; 15 to 17c for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 18 to 19c for Plain and Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 16½c, in tierces, and 17c, in kegs. Mess Pork, $26,50.

HOMINY—$6,25 to $6,50 per bbl.

PEARL BARLEY—No. 4, 9c per lb.

SPLIT PEAS—$3,50 per bushel.

BEANS—$4,50 to $5 per bushel.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 9, 1868.

CATTLE.

There was next to nothing done in Cattle at these yards this week, the sales, all told, only reachig 57 head, and, as a consequence, there was scarcely enough to establish quotations. The through shipments are also very light, some of the largest western dealers having changed their route of shipping, and this, too, has a tendency to retard business, and make the yards present a gloomier appearance that they would otherwise. Dolan & Co. wholesaled one drove of good western cattle to Myers & Needy at 8½c, and this was about the only transaction worth recording. In the Allegheny market, prime to extra cattle sold on Monday at from 8½ to 9¼, and stockers at from 5½ to 6¾.

SHEEP.

There was a very fair volume of business done in this class of stock, the sales during the week footing up about 10,000 head. As will be seen by reference to sales, prices ranged all the way from 5¾ to 8,35 per cwt., for common clipped to strictly prime fat wooled Sheep, and we may remark in this connection, that there is a difference of from one to two cents per pound made between clipped and wooled Sheep, as to quality and condition. Messrs. Holmes, Lafferty & Glass—one of the largest, most reliable and energetic firms in the stock business—sold to J. Lloyd and C. Pierce 933 head, weighing, in the aggregate, 83,080 lbs, at 6,80. One dealer bought some 1,500 head in different lots, but he would neither give the prices himself nor allow those from whom he bought to do so.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

A Scrap of History—The First White Child born West of the Allegheny River—The First Settlement of Allegheny City and First Murder and Execution.

In the Pittsburgh Quarterly Magazine, April number, there has been commenced a history of Pittsburgh, from the easy and graceful pen of J. Trainer King, Esq. This new history will be devoted almost exclusively to topics particularly bearing on the mechanical, professional and educational advancement and growth of the city, rather than its military traditions. We take the liberty of publishing the following interesting extract from the first part of the history, regarding the early settlement of Allegheny, which will give an idea of the generally interesting character of the work, which will doubless prove, when completed, the most complete and fullest history of any city ever published:

Even when the Indians still had undisputed possession of all the lands west of the Allegheny river, the friendship they professed for the English after the French had vacated Fort Duquesne induced at least two families to risk their lives in their midst beyond the Allegheny—those of James Robinson, father of the late General William Robinson, and Benjamin Jones. Which of these families first ventured their "little all" amongst the red men in their own land, is not positively known. It has been claimed that General William Robinson was the first white child born west of the Allegheny river; there is, however, a doubt about this, although that he was the first white male child is unquestioned. The author in searching for information endeavored to trace out all the very old settlers living within reach, note their recollections and obtain all the old letters and documents they had, yet unpublished. From General Robinson he had the promise of all the information he had at his disposal, but death intervened unexpectedly, and he was thus deprived of notes from him to compare with those gotten from others. Hearing that the first white woman born west of the Allegheny was still living, and could be found at Fairview, in the person of one Mrs. Jessep, a daughter of Benjamin Jones above referred to, he visited that place and found a very old lady confined to her bed in a room of her daughter's house, on the bluff o'erlooking Fairview. Although bed-ridden for some five years and emaciated almost to a skeleton, her mind is still vigorous, and her memory, except for dates, quite clear. She stated that her father, Benjamin Jones, came over the mountain before she was born, bringing with him her mother and one son, then a small boy. Another older son had been sent with another family, starting about the same time or previous, but neither the boy nor the family were ever heard of again, and it is supposed they were all killed by the Indians. Some time after her father arrived here he located on and improved a spot of ground back of where the Western Penitentiary now stands. The cabin was built near the spring towards the foot of the hill, and there she was born. At what date her father made the settlement she does not know, but judging from a series of circumstances connecting "this with that," it must have been as early as 1770.

Mrs. Jessep says that when she was about one year old, and during the month of March, her father with five other white men crossed the Monongahela river one day to assist a friend in raising a cabin. The day was exceedingly wet and cold, and when the men returned in the evening about dark they were drenched to the skin. A good wood fire "was built up" and the men all stood around it to dry their clothes. Mrs. Jones had gone to and was milking a cow under the shelter of an apple tree that stood near the cabin. While thus occupied she saw one of the men stagger out of the door and fall; she thought it a little singular, as she had not noticed that any of them were drunk; but her reflections were cut short by the appearance of another who likewise staggered and fell, then another, and still another, until the whole six lay in a heap. The truth had ere this flashed upon her, but prudence bade her keep perfectly still. When all seemed quiet, with fear and trembling, she noiselessly approached the cabin, secured the children who were left undisturbed in their humble bed in one corner, and fled into the darkness, lest she and they should be the next victims. The rain was still pouring down in torrents, and to use Mrs. Jessep's own language, the "night was powerful dark;" trembling in every limb, not only from fear, but with cold, she passed the night under some "paw-paw" bushes, using sometimes her own body and sometimes making the boy use his to protect the child from the storm; and had not this precaution been taken, Mrs. Jessep, who was that child of nearly a hundred years ago, might not be living to-day to repeat her mother's account of that fearful night. The long sleepless hours that intervened before the morning, which might bring her relief or consign her to a similar or perhaps worse fate than her husband had met, was an age of horrible forebodings.

As it afterwards transpired, the six men had been stabbed by an Indian who had stealthily crept up behind and done his work with such precision and dispatch that there was scarcely an out-cry. One of the men, however, by the name of William Freeman, escaped fatal injury; the other five, including Mr. Jones, died, it is supposed, instantly. Freeman after a time recovered his senses, and with his remaining strength crawled to the Ferry House kept by James Robinson. He stated the occurrence to Mr. Robinson, who immediately sent word to Fort Pitt, from whence a party of men was sent in pursuit of the assassin. In the morning Mrs. Jones and her children were brought over to the Fort and properly provided for. The pursuing party followed the Indian's trail for several days, and finally succeeded in making him prisoner at a point on Lake Erie, near where the city of Erie is now situated. His captors reached the Fort in safety with their prisoner, and it was at first determined that the boy Jones should shoot him to avenge the death of his father, but wiser counsel prevailed, and he was taken to Hannahstown, placed in the county jail and afterwards tried, found guilty and executed—the first man hung west of the mountains by order of law. Mrs. Jessep could not remember the Indian's name, and as the records of the court were all destroyed when the town was sacked by the Indians, this and the precise date of the hanging are likely to remain shrouded in mystery.

As Mrs, Jessep was a year old at the time of the murder of her father, the inference is that she was born some years before General Robinson, unless his age was greater than computed. Judging from these and many other circumstances with which I have been made acquainted, such as the ages of her children, that of her brother, the fact of the apple-trees being large enough for shelter at the time of the killing &c., I feel justified in saying that Benjamin Jones must have settled on that side of the river as early as 1770; that Mrs Jessup is at least a nonegenarian, (although it is claimed that she is a centenarian), and was the first white child born west of the Allegheny river. Is it not remarkable that the very first white person born west of the Allegheny is still living, when tens, perhaps hundreds of thousands, since born west of this boundary have paid the penalty entailed on man.

AMBROISE THOMAS, the composer of "Hamlet," is proverbial for his modesty. One evening, at an artists' dinner, he discovered an old piano at the restaurant, and played on it a melody so sweet and plaintive that tears stood in the eyes of all listeners. "Look, Ambroise, we are crying," said a friend, taking his hand. "I am not surprised, mon ami; I rubbed my fingers with onions before playing."

The Value of a Vagabond.

When the first penny newspaper was started in London, according to an essay in Hours at Home, by James Greenwood, it was jeered at as a contemptible rag, a clout fit for the use of the dregs of society and for nothing else. Advertisers were shy of it, though the brave launchers of the venture tempted them by offers marvelously liberal. The speculation sickened nigh unto death, when lo! the street ragamuffin, the half-clad urchin, prowling the markets for a meal, came to the rescue. This recruit knew nothing about the press, free or restricted, but he had heard that whatever number of the daily penny Telegraph he could manage to sell would net him one-quarter profit. What was needed was customers, likewise capital. The capital was provided by a joint stock company of four shareholders, and was paid up to the extent of eight pence. Upon this financial basis, as the agent of this Company, the first London newsboy astonished the ears of the community by shouting "Daily Telegraph! Latest edition! Startlin' roomer from Ameriky! On'y a penny! Latest edition!" Before twelve o'clock, the agent of the Company had increased its capital to half a crown. "Telegraffs" proved a rare investment, and we doubt if there be any record of a Company, however great or "limited," which thus augmented its property before declaring a dividend.

Chinese on the Pacific Railroad.

When a Chinaman is killed the whole gang invariably quit work upon that part of the road. What secret fear or open superstition they have upon this point I could not learn. The overseers only know the fact, and no more pretend to account for it than does the farmer for the fact of young ducks taking to the water, or chickens to the dry land. He knows that they always do it. Early last winter a snow slide overwhelmed and buried thirty out of a gang of one hundred. The rest instantly prepared to leave, not so much as offering to dig out their brethern, who might possibly be still living beneath the snow. This the white overseer, a resolute fellow, would not permit, but, with his pistol, drove the frightened Chinamen to work digging for the poor fellows. They were are all dead except one when dug out. He was in a steam of sweet. His first words were brief, and expressed his impressions—"Too muchee hot," he said, and prepared to follow his pugnacious companions away from the tabooed section of the road. Yet John is a good and faithful workman, and without him the work would make but little progress.—Cor. San Francisco Bulletin.

Chicago and St. Louis.

It begins to look very much as if Chicago has cut St. Louis out of the "mountain trade," which, last year, was worth $8,000,000. By the completion of seventy miles of railroad from Sioux City to St. Johns, (which seventy miles, though running southeastwardly, were subsidized by the Government as a branch Pacific Railroad,) Chicago has direct railway communication with Sioux City. The distance by rail from Chicago to Sioux City is 540 miles. The distance from St. Louis to Sioux City by way of the Missouri river is about a thousand miles, and the navigation thereof is difficult and hazardous. As 540 miles of railroad is to a thousand miles of treacherous river, so is Chicago to St. Louis in the prospect of annually selling $8,000,000 worth of goods to Montana. Chicago is a lucky town. New York and New England capital flows profusely in its interest, and Uncle Sam builds railroads from east to west and west to east to connect with its main trans-Mississippi artery, charging the bill to the "Pacific Railroad" page in the ledger.—Cincinnati Commercial.

A CHILI JOURNAL relates that at the summit of the Cordillera of Dona Ana, the priest Don Jose Sagues, following an ancient track, has, after many difficulties, discovered a tomb or deposit of remarkable objects. The rarefaction of the air at such an altitude, which exceeds ten thousand feet, has scarcely allowed the workmen to make a small excavation, from which have been taken a huanaco made of bone and ornamented with gold, a silver figure weighing three pounds, and another representing an Indian at the time of the conquest. They were all found under a kind of shed made of wood and covered with stones, charcoal and huanaco wool in a perfect state of preservation. Other articles in use by the Indians, of less consequence, are also spoken of. It is believed that the Indians at the time of the conquest hid a great treasure in the place in question.

☞UNION REPUBLICAN

COUNTY CONVENTION.

The UNION REPUBLICAN VOTERS of Allegheny County are requested to meet at the usual places for holding elections in the several Wards, Boroughs and Townships, on Saturday, May 30th, 1868,

And elect two (2) delegates from each election district, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. Also, two (2) delegates from each election district for the purpose of nominating candidates for Senate, Assembly, District Attorney and Assistant Attorney, Controller and Commissioners.

The Congressional Convention for the 22d District will meet at the CITY COUNCIL CHAMBERS Pittsburgh, on TUESDAY, June 2d, at 10 o'clock A. M., to nominate a Congressman. The Congressional Convention for the 21st District will meet at the CITY HALL, Allegheny City, the same day and hour, to appoint Conferees for the District. The County Convention will meet at the COURT HOUSE, in this city, the same day and hour.

The County Executive Committee recommend that the delegate elections be held, so far as practicable, by the Republican members of the Election Boards in the several districts, and also the manner of voting for candidates in the several Conventions be viva voce.

The Primary Elections in the Townships (excepting the Townships of Oakland, Pitt, Peebles, Liberty, Collins and Wilkins, which will be between the hours of 3 and 7 o'clock,) will be held between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock P. M., and in the Boroughs and Cities between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock P. M. In the Cities and Boroughs the elections shall be by ballot, and in the Townships by marking.

STEAM

CARPET BEATING

ESTABLISHMENT.

Which TEN YEARS' TRIAL in New York and other Eastern cities has proved a complete success.

ITS ADVANTAGES:

1st—Fading and Shrinkage are completely avoided.
2d—No ripping apart necessary.
3d—When freed from dust, moths or their larvae, the Carpet looks nearly as good as new, save the natural fading from wear.
4th—When perfectly clean, a Carpet will wear as long again, a desirable matter as a mere point of economy, to say nothing of looks.

RAILROAD COMMITTEE.

Mr. Faulkner presented the report of the Committee on Railroads, relative to the erection of a wall by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company to protect the banks formed by the cut through Seminary Hill. They report that the Company will have the breaks in the wall fixed as per agreement. Read and accepted.

REPORT FROM STREET COMMITTEE.

Mr. Myler, from the Committee on Streets, presented their report, in which they recommend an accompanying ordinance, providing for the reconveyance of two strips of ground on the Southern and western side of property on the Northwest angle of Federal street, owned formerly by George Ledlie, whose successor agrees therefor to pay the paving of the portion of Carroll street running near by. The Committee have decided to lay over the matter of the Montgomery avenue sewer. They offer ordinances for the grading and paving of Park street, from Grant avenue to Sturgeon street; Spring Garden road from Chestnut street to city line; Locust street from East side of Sedgwick to Fulton street; Killbuck street from Craig to Corry street; Green alley from Chestnut to Centre street; Franklin street from Sedgwick to the river; South Canal street from Madison avenue to Sycamore street; Balkam street from Robinson street to the river; and Concord street in the Third and Seventh wards.

A number of recommendations were made by the Committee, which are shown by accompanying documents acted upon.

In the matter of the assessments for the opening of Washington avenue, the Committee offer a resolution referring back to the viewers their report with instructions to notify all parties and to give all an opportunity to make known their grievances.

The Committee also offer an ordinance providing for the widening of Pitt alley sixteen feet, ten feet more than previously fixed upon, making a street of forty feet.

The report of the Committee was accepted.

The ordinance relating to the reconveyance of the land above referred to, was laid over.

The resolution in regard to the report of the viewers on the opening of Washington avenue, was adopted.

The ordinance for the widening of Pitt alley was lost.

The following ordinances, above referred to, were passed finally:

Spring Gardon road, Green alley, Concord street, Balkham street, Park street, Locust street, South Canal street, Franklin street, amended to insert "to Beaver street" instead of "to the river;" widening of sidewalks on Wide alley.

The ordinance for the grading and paving of Killbuck street was laid over.

Mr. Callery presented a petition for a "V" on the fire plugs in the Water Works yard. Referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. Black presented a petition against the paving of Park street; and

Mr. A. D. Smith presented a paper signed by a number of parties withdrawing their names from the remonstrance. Referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. Myler presented the report of the viewers on the opening of Locust street, which, after some discussion, was confirmed.

PROFILES OFFERED.

Mr. Myler presented the profile of the grade of Spring Garden Run road, which he moved be adopted.

Also, the profile of the grade of Park street, and of Jalappa street.

The two first were adopted.

As to Jalappa street, Mr. A. D. Smith stated that he understood there were objections.

Mr. Alex. Patterson moved it be laid over until nexl meeting. Laid over.

Mr. Myler offered the profile of the plan of a sewer on Spring Garden Run, the adoption of which he moved. Adopted.

POLICE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Mr. English presented the report of the Committee on Police, in which they recommended the removal of the mammoth "Hoop Skirt" noticed at the last meeting. They also offer a resolution requiring the Mayor to instruct the Police to enforce the ordinance relating to street signs. The report was accepted and the resolution adopted.

REPORT OF WATER COMMITTEE.

Mr. Brown presented the report of the Water Committee, in which they offer a resolution to refund $165,25 to Park & Co., paid for water while the facilities were not accorded them. The Committee report adversely to the application for water on Bank lane; favorably for the furnishing of water on North avenue, Robinson street and Main street—the latter in the Eighth ward. The Committee offer also a resolution providing for the laying of water pipe on Saw Mill alley, North avenue, Robinson street, Lumber alley, and Main street.

The report was accepted and the recommendations and resolutions adopted.

Mr. Callery offered a resolution instructing the Wharfmaster to put in ten check posts (to cost about $50) on river bank in the Eighth ward, to which to secure rafts. Referred to Wharf Committee.

FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Mr. A. D. Smith, from the Finance Committee, presented their report, in which they state they have had before them the petition of R. M. Park, Wharfmaster of the Fifth ward for 1867, asking the refunding of $75 50 paid into city treasury, basing his claim for reimbursement under provisions of the fourth section of the act annexing the borough of Manchester, and by virtue of instructions from the Committee on Wharves and Landings. The committee state that after examining the law, they cannot legally authorize the reimbursement, and therefore report averse to the petitioner. The committee also reports in favor of an additional loan, which is necessary to meet the requirements of the Treasury, and with that view offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance be and are hereby authorized to borrow, on the best possible terms, the sum of ten thousand dollars, to meet the demands of the Treasury.

Accepted and resolution adopted.

Mr. Alexander Patterson offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Finance to inquire into and report if the Pittsburg, Allegheny and Manchester Passenger Railway have paid into the Treasury the amount ot tax formerly paid the borough of Manchester. Adopted.

Mr. Wettach offered an ordinance changing the name of Spring Garden Plank Road to Spring Garden avenue. Read three times and passed.

Mr. Motheral offered a resolution instructing the Street Committee to report an ordinance providing for a grade of Chartiers street.

Also, an ordinance providing for the grading and paving of Juniata street from Sedgwick street to Beaver avenue. Adopted.

Also a five inch curb stone on Washington avenue instead of six inch. Adopted.

Mr. Brown offered a resolution instructing the Water Committee to inquire into the contract with the Fort Wayne road in regard to expense in changing the laying of water pipes from Tremont to Fremont street. Adopted.

Mr. Callery offered a resolution instructing the City Engineer to establish a grade on certain streets in the late Duquesne borough.

Mr. Myler stated that the Engineer was already engaged in fixing the grades of the new ward.

On this explanation the resolution was withdrawn,

Mr. Callery offered a resolution instructing the Controller to inquire into and settle the accounts of the late borough of Duquesne, so far as they relate and pertain to Allegheny City. Adopted.

C. C. concurred with S. C. in all the foregoing business.

Common Council.

Members present—Messrs. Blair, Cutler, Comley, Clark, Dunham, Eyster, Fleming, Hanna, Hastings, Hochuly, Lindsay, Megraw, Mayer, McDonald, McNeill, Reed, Tate, Voeghtly, White, Warner, and the President.

Absent—Messrs. Brown, Geyer, Kennedy, Kunkle, Ley, Ober, Richardson, Saints.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS.

Mr. Hastings presented a petition from the property owners on Middle street, asking for the paving of the same from North Avenue to Knoll street. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Hochuly, a petition from the property owners on Madison avenue, asking for the grading and paving of the same. Referred to Street Committee.

REMOXSTRANCES.

Mr. Hanna presented a remonstrance from residents and property owners on Allegheny Avenue, against the grading and paving of the same. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Mr. Cutler presented a remonstrance from residents and property owners on Park street against the paving of said street, from Grant avenue to Sturgeon street.

Mr. Cutler said that fourteen out of sixteen of the property holders signed the petition.

On motion of Mr. Cutler, it was referred to the Committee on Streets.

JALAPPA AND WALKER STREETS.

Mr. Cutler presented a petition from residents of the Fifth ward, on Jalappa and Walker streets, asking Councils to appoint a special committee to visit said streets, to have a uniform grade established thereon before paving. Referred to Street Committee.

ENGINES AND HOSE.

Mr. Megraw presented the following report of the Committee on Engines:

GENTLEMEN: Your Committee on Engines would respectfully report that they had before them the petition of the Columbia Fire Company to be supplied with two horses, and being convinced that the same are necessary, offer the following:

Resolved, That the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department be and he is hereby authorized to purchase at the best advantage two horses, to be used for fire purposes by the Columbia Hose, Hook and Ladder Company.

We would offer the following resolutions to provide an office for the Chief Engineer, and to fit up the same in a proper manner; also, to furnish a supply of water to the office of the Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph, as water is often needed about the telegraph apparatus.

Resolved, That the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department be, and he is hereby authorized to occupy, in conjunction with the Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegragh, the room now occupied by the latter.

Resolved, That the Commttee on Engines be and they are hereby instructed to have a gong placed in said office.

Resolved, That the Committee on City Property be instructed to procure such other fixtures and make such alterations in said office as may be necessary and requisite for the comfort and convenience of the Chief Engineer, and also that they have water and waste pipes extended to said office.

Mr. McNeill moved that the report be accepted and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Hanna moved to amend by referring that part of the report relative to increasing the salary of the Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph back to the Committee.

He thought the office could be dispensed with, as the Chief of the Fire Department could, in connection with his duties, attend to the telegragh.

Mr. Megraw said that the Chief Engineer did not understand the Telegraph, and, consequently, could not attend to it.

Mr. McNeill thought the Telegraph was not worth nine hundred dollars a year to the city, and rather than pay that much he would abandon it.

Mr. Cutler said the Telegraph required the whole attention of a man who understood the business.

Mr. Hastings was in favor of referring the matter back to the Committee. He was not in favor of throwing away money for nothing.

The amendment was adopted.

The report was accepted and the resolutions as amended adopted.

MARKETS.

Mr. Hanna, from the Committee on Markets, presented the report.

GENTLEMEN: Your Committee on Markets beg leave to submit the following statement of the receipts of the Weighmasters and Clerk of Markets for the month of March, viz:

Duncan Dallas, Clerk of Markets	$ 674 05
John M'Alister, 2d Ward Scales..	671 54
George M'Nulty, Diamond Scales	233 94
Total	$1,179 54

In compliance with the instruction of Councils, we would report the following ordinance to prevent the placing of wagons on the streets:

"Be it ordained and enacted by the Select and Common Councils of the City of Allegheny, and it is hereby enacted by the municipality of the same, that Section 23, page 88, chapter 13, city code, be and it is hereby amended by striking out the words 'within the Diamond square during market hours,' and by the addition of the following proviso: 'Provided, that the wagons of farmers and others attending market, that cannot be accommodated elsewhere, shall be permitted to remain in the First ward square of the Diamond during market hours.'"

On motion of Mr. Megraw, the report was received and the ordinance adopted.

On motion of Mr. Cutler, the rules were suspended and the ordinance passed finally.

GAS.

Mr. McDonald presented the following report of the Committee on Gas:

GENTLEMEN: Your Committee on Gas would respectfully report that having had referred to them petitions and resolutions for the erection of lamps at the points hereinafter named, they made due inquiry into the necessity therefor, and finding that they are needed they would offer the following resolution to authorize their erection:

Resolved, That the Committee on Gas be and they are hereby authorized to place a gas lamp at the corner of Margaret alley and Federal street, and a lamp post on Liberty street, midway between East Lane and Chestnut street, provided the main is laid; also, on the corner of Beaver and Ledlie streets, and on the corner of Taylor avenue and Morgan alley.

On motion of Mr. Tate, the report was received and the resolutions adopted.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. Cutler offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Street Railways be requested to make a report of the matter referred to them in regard to changing the position of the track of the Pittsburgh, Allegheny & Manchester Passenger Railway Company on Locust street. Adopted.

Council adjourned.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

Meeting of the Association—Site Selected and Design Adopted.

A meeting of the Soldiers' Monument Association was held at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday, for the purpose of selecting a site on which to erect the monument, adopt a design, and award the premiums authorized by a resolution of the Association to the artist furnishing the design adopted by them, $200, and to the one furnishing the second best design $100.

At the request of Mrs. McKee, who is President of the Association, the meeting was called to order by Mr. James Park who acted as chairman.

Mr. Park stated the object of the meeting, and the first thing in order, he said, was to adopt a design for the construction of the monument.

Mrs. McKee moved that design No. 3, furnished by Mr. E. Morganroth, be adopted.

Accompanying this design was a partial description and an estimate of the cost of constructing the monument. The design represents a monument seventy feet in height, surmounted by a collossal statue of the Goddess of Liberty, with a spiral stair case at the base, ascending to a gallery twenty-nine feet from the base. The cost as estimated by Mr. Morganroth would be $35,000.

Mr. Chislett stated that Mr. M. had informed him that the monument could be constructed after that design, out of the material proposed by the Committee, for $26,000.

A vote was taken, but as there were but two or three persons voted, the result was unsatisfactory.

A motion was then made to reconsider, which carried.

Mr. Jennings moved that the voting for the adoption of a design, and also for the one which was to receive the second premium, be by ballot. Adopted.

The balloting for the design to be adopted was commenced, but before the votes had been counted, Mr. Park stated that some of the Committee thought they should select a site on which to erect the monument, as the location should be considered in the selection of a design.

Mrs. Watt thought the Committee should not proceed to the selection of a site at present, as several members of the Committee were absent.

Mrs. M'Kee said the meeting was called for the purpose of selecting a site and adopting a design, and she did not thiuk it necessary to postpone the matter in consequence of the absence of a portion of the Committee.

Mrs. Robinson moved that the Committee proceed to ballot for a site on which to erect a monument, and as the Cemetery Association had proposed to donate a lot valued at $15,000, and furnish stone for the foundation, moved that the Cemetery be selected as the location for the monument. Adopted by a vote of seven to three.

The motion to ballot for a drawing was renewed and adopted.

A ballot was then taken with the following result:

Morganroth's Design No. 3, 9; Mr. Charles', 2.

Morganroth's was declared to be the design adopted by the Association.

Mr. Jennings said that by a resolution of the commiitee they were to pay $200 for the design adopted and $100 for the second best, he would therefore move to ballot for the second best design. Adopted.

A ballot was then taken with the following result: Broome, 5; Muldoon & Co., 1; Kirk, 1; Charles, 3.

The design furnished by Mr. Broome having received the highest number of votes, was declared to be the second best and entitled to the premium of $100.

On motion of Mr. Jennings the Treasurer was authorized to pay to Mr. Morganroth $200 for the design adopted, and to Mr. Broome $100.

Mr. Jennings moved that the Committee on building be instructed to advertise for proposals for the construction of the monument. Adopted and Mr. Chislett designated to superintend the matter.

On motion of Mr. Robinson, the design furnished by Mr. Newell, of a private soldier at "Parade Rest," was substituted for the Goddess of Liberty, which adorns the top of the design adopted.

On motion of Mr. Chislett, a committee of two ladies was appointed to obtain permission of Mr. Newell to use the design.

On motion adjourned.

The Purity of the Ballot Box.

At the recent Borough election held in East Birmingham it was contended by the Democrats that the successful candidates for Council were elected through fraud, or at least that the tally lists did not correspond with the ballots cast. The election was contested and the Court appointed Messrs. August Ammon and John P. Heisel, Justices of the Peace, to act as Commissioners to investigate the election. They, yesterday, concluded their labors and awarded a decision, which surprised the contestants, throwing out all the Democratic School Directors recently declared elected. The following is the correct vote: For Council: John F. Walters, R, 467*; James Beck, R, 415*; John Foell, R, 457*; G. Fox, D, 339; H. Estep, D, 345; George Trimbor, D, 342. School Directors—C. J. Shultz, R, 457*; P. W. Reed, R, 442*; Alex. McKee, R, 410*; William Fortune, D, 327; Saml. Hamilton, D, 344; William Beck, Sr., D, 360. We congratulate our Republican friends in that Borough on their unexpected luck in obtaining the full board of School Directors, and, at the same time, cannot but admire the anxiety of the Democrats to secure the purity of the ballot box. It is rather gratifying to know that the mistake was all on their own side.

A desirable dwelling house, No. 43 Boyle street, Allegheny city, newly papered and painted, with gas and water throughout, is offered at a low rent by advertisement elsewhere.

A Wood Street Attraction.

For any one desiring to beautify his home or to gratify his eyes by beholding beautiful things, the best plan would be to go to the establishment of Messrs. Boyd, Murray & Fawcett, at No. 61 Wood street. Every day this store is crowded with visitors, many of whom only go to see the beautiful collection of paintings now adorning it. Several of these are by European masters, and were brought over by a prominent merchant of this city. Of these a wonderful landscape and a lovely little genure picture are the most noteworthy; but there is a view in the Allegheny Mountains by Mr. Hetzell, and a sea side picture by Mr. Woodwell, that are perfectly charming; one almost feels the strong salt breeze, and instinctively catches at his hat, while gazing at the latter. But these pictures are not the only attractions; there is a large and finely selected assortment of engravings and choice English and German chromos, to which additions are constantly being made from the New York picture importers, so that all tastes can be suited and every eye pleased. One of the most extensive stocks of square, oval, pier and mantle mirrors is always kept on hand, and plain and rustic walnut and beautifully gilded frames are in endless variety. Mouldings for frames and cornices ready to be made are always to be seen, so that the purchaser can have any sort of decoration of this kind finished to order. The gilding done at this establishment is particularly fine and worthy of notice, and is all done under the personal supervision of Mr. John Chapman, who for thirty years has been at the head of his art in this city. Any one possessing pictures of any sort, from the photograph up to the mirror which pictures his lady friends, can do no better than have them framed with such gilding as this. And any one wanting to hang pictures should be sure to have one of the new picture hanging mouldings to hang them on. This is a perfectly new idea. It is a gilt moulding for the top of a room, with a round gilt bar with sliding hooks, from which the cords of any picture may depend, and the walls will have no unsightly scratches or nail marks to disfigure them. Mr. Boyd (who has had over twenty years of experience in his business) and his assistants are gentlemen of courtesy, and attend so well to their customers that few who go once neglect to go again

The Gas Companies.

It was proposed in the City Councils at their late meeting to ask the Legislature to define the domain of the old and new gas light companies of this city, and within their respective domains or districts to grant to each company the exclusive right of laying pipe, &c. This, it seems to us, would be very unwise. At present no exclusive right is held by either. Why should it be granted? There is on the statute book a general law regulating gas and water companies, under which any incorporated company may erect gas or water works in any locality within the Commonwealth, and may occupy streets and lanes for that purpose. The legislation proposed in the City Councils would secure to the companies now existing a monoply of privileges, and enable them, except as the rates may be limited by law, to charge what they please for their supplies, and, if the gas or water furnished be deficient in quantity, or quality, or in regularity of supply, there would be no remedy. It is much better that the law remain as it is: whenever it should be for the interest of the people, or of private parties, to establish competing companies, it should be lawful to do so, and whenever any company now formed can supply any portion of the city cheaper than another, it should not be restricted in its right to lay its pipes in the same streets with the others, always, of course, subject to wholesome street regulations.

Too Much Kindness.

Yesterday morning James Cole, a countryman, came to the city and very unfortunately took an over quantity of "benzine" aboard, the result of which was a loss of his reckoning. He wandered about town for a time and finally pulled up in a "one horse" tavern in the Ninth Ward. Here he met, as he alleges, Samuel Johnston, Joseph Sampson and Thomas Morgan, who, after drinking with him two or three times, came to the conclusion that he, Cole, had taken too much, that he was entirely too drunk, and out of kindness toward him they undertook to "sober" him. With this intention they went to work upon him, hauling him around the bar-room by the heels, pushing him over chairs and shoving him about generally. Cole did not relish the process and for a while entreated his kind friends to desist from their efforts to restore him to a "state of soberness." Finding his entreaties were useless he resorted to means not so mild and endeavored to compel them to refrain. This did not meet the views of the opposite party, and the result was they gave him a sound beating. He made information before Alderman Taylor charging the parties with assault and battery, but was unable to give any definite information as to where the difficulty occurred. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the "friends."

Street Robbery.

Wednesday evening about eight o'clock an old man named Wheeler, driver of an express wagon, while passing along an alley between Penn and Liberty street, a short distance above Canal, was seized by three or four men who sprang suddenly out from Spring alley, and while one held him the others robbed him of all the money he had, thirty-five dollars. They then fled, as the old man had began to yell furiously. Officer Bell soon came to the spot, but the scamps were out of view, and there is but little likelihood of their being apprehended.

Extensive Robbery.—On Wednesday night Mr. Perkins, the General Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Car Works, Manchester, quit his office and left behind him his safe keys. The night watchman, Casper Horner, who was on duty, seized the opportunity to open the safe and abstracted therefrom the sum of six hundred dollars, with which he made his disappearance. There were checks calling for several thousand dollars also in the safe but the thief showed good judgment in permitting them to remain there as he could not have realized upon them and escape arrest. The authorities were promptly informed of the robbery.

Garroters.—Wednesday evening a carter residing on Wylie street, while passing through Strawberry alley was attacked by two men, one of whom caught him round the neck and held him while the other "went through" his pockets and relieved him of his pocket book containing twenty-five dollars, after which they left him in the alley. He thinks he would know the parties if he should see them.

We had a fine fall of snow last night which continued up to our hour of going to press this morning. There were several inches of snow on the ground. On the Allegheny mountains yesterday, in the neighborhood of Cresson, the storm prevailed in right good earnest, covering the ground thirteen inches deep with the late coming flakes.

Soho Bridge has been so far "reconstructed" that vehicles passed over it yesterday. The passenger railway tracks will be laid to-day. Messrs. Piper & Co. are the contractors for the work, and have acted with commendable energy.

A fellow who persisted in disturbing the audience at the "Old Drury" last night, was ejected by the policemen in attendance. The very best of order is always maintained at this popular place of amusement.

The Fire Alarm bell will toll twenty-three times to-day, at noon, in commemoration of the Great Fire of 1845, this being the 23d anniversary of that important event in our local history.

Assistant District Attorney.

Elsewhere in to-day's GAZETTE will be found the announcement that Jonn W. Riddell, Esq., will be a candicate for nomination by the Republican County Convention for the office of Assistant District Attorney. Without intending to disparage the claims of other candidates for the same position, it is but due to say of Mr. Riddell, that having filled the office with such entire satisfaction, and having been so long and favorably known in connection with the legal profession, there can be no doubt in respect to his ability to perform the duties, and this consideration will bring him many ardent supporters. His political status is equally unquestionable, as he has been closely and prominently identified with the Republican party.

Singer's Sewing Machine.

We advise our readers to call and examine Singer's new noiseless Sewing Machines before purchasing elsewhere. They are entirely different from the old Singer Machines. The Shuttle is carried on a new principle. The tension is really self-adjusting, and all springs, wires and other complications have been entirely dispensed with, making it the simplest, quietest, lightest running and most practical machine yet invented. The hemmers and others attachments are marvels of simplicity and perfection. All Sewing Machine Agents will tell you that the machines they sell are better than any others. The Singer Machine shows its own merits and will convince any one who may examine it, as we were convineed that it is the best. Straw & Morton, No. 40 St. Clair street, corner of Penn, are the Agents.

Special Private Sale.

To-day will be exposed at special private sale to wholesale and retail patrons at the mammoth auction salesrooms of Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, a magnificent stock of superior made boots, shoes and gaiters, for men, women and children. Inasmuch as these goods must be sold, the order for the sale being peremptory, great bargains may safely be anticipated. The firm will also expose at private sale all descriptions of foreign and American carpets, which they can afford to sell at astonishingly low prices. All are invited to attend the sale to-day and look around through the stock to satisfy themselves of its superiority.

Elocutionary Entertainment.

On Monday, April 13th, an elocutionary entertainment will be given at the German Lutheran Church, in Temperanceville, for the benefit of the Protestant Episcopal Mission Sabbath School and Church of that place, Rev. W. A. Fuller, Rector. The entainment will be an excellent one, and the evening spent in aiding the Mission cause will be most pleasantly as well as profitably spent. Tickets may be procured at the drug store of Harris & Ewing, corner of Liberty and Wayne streets, and of Mr. J. B. Bryant, at the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, on Duquesne Way,

A Neuralgia of ten years standing cured by using a three dollar bottle of Wolcott's Pain Paint.

David H. Shaffer, geologist and naturalist, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "I as an individual and without fear of contradiction, pronounce Wolcott's Pain Paint one of the most wonderful wonders of the age for relieving all who suffer pain."
